HON. JEAN LESAGE

Federal Minister Here Today

Federal Resources Minister Jean Lesage and two other Ottawa officials arrived in Victoria today for a private meeting with Premier Bennett on international river problems with special attention to hydro development on the Canadian side of the Columbia River.

"It would be improper for me to discuss these matters before meeting the premier," Mr. Lesage said on his arrival at the Empress Hotel.

With R. G. Robertson, deputy minister of natural resources, and E. A. Cote, assistant deputy minister, Mr. Lesage was meeting the premier in his office this afternoon.

Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and two or three other top government officials are taking part in the discussions.

Ont. Steel Workers Vote for Strike

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—Five thousand of the 7,000 employees of the Steel Company of Canada plant voted in favor of strike action, a United Steelworkers spokesman said today.

Canada also is starting to feel the impact of the United States steel strike.

Should negotiations bog down in conciliation meetings, the strike vote would leave the Hamilton workers free to act.

The Algoma Steel Company in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., also was opening contract talks.

Some 4,000 members of the Steelworkers' Union were voting for a 17-cent an hour package wage boost at the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation in Sydney, N.S.

Steelco negotiations at Hamilton had been lagging as both sides awaited the outcome of the U.S. strike. Canadian firms usually follow American wage increases but to a smaller degree, and the union's Canadian unit was expected to seek settlements comparable to any gains made in the U.S.

Sympathy strikes hit two Canadian groups Tuesday when a subsidiary of the Republic Steel in Hamilton, Union Steel, and the Marmora Mining Company at Marmora were closed by walkouts.

PMs Set To Welcome Malaya Gold Coast Into Partnership

LONDON (CP)—Commonwealth leaders agreed today to open the doors of the global partnership to Malaya and the Gold Coast which are due soon to become independent.

Britain has promised to grant full powers of self-rule to the Malayan federation by the fall of 1957.

She has offered eventual complete independence to the Gold Coast in West Africa where elections begin next week for the Commonwealth's first all-Negro government.

Both territories now have colonial status, with Britain controlling defence and foreign affairs.

Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru advanced the proposition to eight fellow-premiers that British colonies automatically have the right to full and equal membership of the Commonwealth as soon as they win full control over their home and foreign affairs. Conference officials reported that there was little or no dissent from the Indian view.

Other British territories edging towards full Commonwealth membership are the Central African Federation, Nigeria in West Africa and the 13-island Caribbean Federation.

Police said today three armed men held up a jewelry store in Montreal's Rosemont district Tuesday night and escaped with about $60,000 in cash and jewelry.

Police said the men scooped diamonds, watches and rings into a sack after blinding and gagging the owner of the Mountain Blue Diamond and Gloria Watch Company and another jeweler in the store at the time.

Living Cost Jump Highest in 5 Years

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs made their biggest monthly rise in five years during May, boosting the consumer price index by 1.2 points to 117.8 from 116.6.

The sudden sharp rise was almost entirely due to a jump in food prices, although other segments of the index also increased slightly, the bureau of statistics reported today.

The yardstick, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, now has reached the second highest level in history, just two-fifths of a point below the record 118.2 reached in Dec., 1951.

The increase of 1.2 points during May was the biggest monthly rise, on a point basis, since June, 1951, when the index increased by 1.5 points.

SPUDS AND MEATS RISE

In the last few years the index usually shifted by fractions of a point. It had remained unchanged in April after increasing by one-fifth of a point in March. A year ago it stood at 115.9, a total of 1.9 points below the current level.

An exceptionally strong seasonal rise in the price of potatoes, combined with increases in coffee, fresh fruits and vegetables and all meat items propelled the big cost-of-living rise.

The increase of 1.2 points during May was the biggest monthly rise, on a point basis, since June, 1951, when the index increased by 1.5 points.

Fishboat Rammed; Second Feared Lost

Port Alberni Men Safe at Tofino

Special to The Times

TOFINO, B.C.—A fisherman and his son reached safety at Tofino today after their fishboat, the 42-foot B.C. Troller, was rammed Tuesday night by a larger vessel, but they fear a second fishing boat might have been sunk without a trace.

A radio message received from the B.C. Troller at 2 a.m. reported it had been hit and that a section of the stern had been carried away. It was taken to Tofino under its own power.

The collision occurred about 10 miles offshore from Tofino. Alf Stein of Port Alberni, owner and operator of the B.C. Troller, said another fishboat had been working in the same area, but that after the freighter passed there was no sign of it.

There has been no further report of other craft missing. Harold Sloman, coxswain of the Department of Transport lifeboat crew, checked both Estevan and Pachena light stations regarding reports of the second vessel, but said no distress signals had been received.

"We have no report of a second boat," Mr. Sloman stated. The ship that struck Stein's craft was not identified. Only sizeable vessel reported in the area at that time was the New Zealand freighter Waitemata, of 7,300 tons, that left Tahsis Tuesday and was due off Cape Beale, 40 miles south of the accident scene at 2 a.m. today.

PLANES SEARCHING
Mr. Sloman said he understood the accident had occurred at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, but that definite word of the fate of the other boat was hampered by poor communications in the area.

Two aircraft were reported making a search in the area, but visibility was limited to only three or four miles.

The collision occurred about seven miles offshore from Lennox Island, which in turn is about three miles west of Tofino. It is about 125 miles northwest of Victoria.

U.S. Marines Guard Legation at Nicosia
NICOSIA, Cyprus (UP)—U.S. Marines mounted an armed guard on the American legation here today to prevent any possible attacks by anti-British Cypriots during the fourth of July celebrations.

American officials said they were taking no chances despite an assurance from the EOKA underground organization that it "sincerely regretted" the killing of vice-consul William Boteler, of Washington, D.C., in a bombing attack last month.

During the period of the "freeze" contractors of the defence department and the Atomic Energy Commission, for example, could acquire or put under order such items stockpiled in warehouses as stainless steel tubing, carbon plate and alloy bar in quantities they might need for the foreseeable future.

The order is aimed at ensuring that necessary defence construction and production go on as long as possible with existing steel stocks.

16 Million Population In Canada By Summer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's population rose to 15,861,000 at March 1 and government officials estimated today the 16,000,000 mark probably will be reached by late summer.

The bureau of statistics said in a quarterly report on population that the 15,861,000 figure represented an increase of 89,000 or 1.7 per cent over the previous quarterly estimate of 15,772,000 at Dec. 1. The increase compares with a gain of 72,000 or 1.9 per cent during the December-February period of 1954-55.

A bureau official said previous population increases between March 1 and the end of August indicate that Canada's population will reach 16,000,000 some time in August.

He said his forecast is based on the expected natural increase in population and the likelihood that the flow of immigrants will be stepped up this summer.

Manitoba Cabinet Shuffled

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Manitoba Premier Douglas Campbell announced a major cabinet reshuffle today centered around the appointment of Labor Minister Charles E. Greenway to the treasury post succeeding former Provincial Treasurer R. D. Turner.

Turner resigned early this year to become president of Trans-Air Ltd., a new air line.

In other cabinet changes, former agriculture minister R. D. Robertson becomes public works minister formerly held by new mines and resources minister F. C. Bell.

Greenway will continue to hold the labor portfolio.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

O GOD, teach us that the ground of our hope is in Thee, not in our own understanding. Teach us to submit our wills to Thine, and though it may be in agony—not in bitterness. Help us to go forward even when we know not where, looking ahead to that city "whose builder and maker is God"; through Jesus Christ. Amen.

'Easy Listening' Music At Butchart's Thursday

A program for easy listening on a balmy summer evening will contain some of the most melodious music in the repertoire of the orchestra when the Victoria Symphony Orchestra plays in Butchart Gardens Thursday evening.

The concert, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross, is a magnificent extra dividend on the price of admission to one of the world's most famous gardens.

With Hans Gruber conducting and Marguerite Lavergne, grand award winner of Singing Stars of Tomorrow as guest artist, music to be presented will include favorite arias from "Madame Butterfly," "La Bohème" and Verdi.

In addition, she will sing the beautiful "Exultate Jubilate," by Mozart, which was her most highly acclaimed number when she appeared as soloist at the recent Toronto Symphony Prom concert.

Orchestral numbers will be Offenbach's "Gaieté Parisienne," ballet music from Tchaikovsky's "Swan Lake," "The Moldau" by Smetana, and "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar.

The concert begins at 8.15 and flood lighting will be turned on at intermission time.

Brief U.S. Steel Strike Would Not Hurt Canada

Consensus Across Country Shows Lengthy Stoppage Would Distress

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canada can take a short United States steel strike without major strain, but a long one will cause distress.

This seems to be the cross-country consensus—gathered by Canadian Press bureaus—but with most observers saying it is too early to make a definite assessment.

A relatively painless strike would be one in the range of two weeks. After that it would start to pinch, a month would hurt for sure, and much longer might mean—in the words of one observer—"an approach to catastrophe."

Canada gets about a fifth of her steel supplies from the United States and even if the tie-up ended today it would cause some pain.

STEEL SHORTAGE FELT OVER WORLD

Even those most optimistic about the immediate future say a lack of a few vital items can put a bad crimp in production.

The strike comes in the midst of an already world-wide steel scarcity and Canadian plants are already working above rated capacity and don't make many of the items imported.

Major items imported include wide-flange structural steel beams, big pipe, and plates—including plates for automobile bodies.

There is little definite information on how far ahead various jobs have ensured their supplies, but so far there have been few if any indications of early shut-downs.

A shortage of wide-flange steel beams would hit the heavy construction industry, including office buildings, power plants, bridges, and even the expansions of Canadian steel plants designed to make Canadians less dependent on imports.

PIPELINE COMPANY HAS 60-DAY SUPPLY

Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., now embarked on its 574-mile natural-gas pipeline from Alberta to Winnipeg, says it has on hand or within sight about 115 miles of 34-inch pipe—the size to be used on the Prairies.

It expects to have two crews laying pipe within a fortnight at the rate of two miles a day. The two crews would thus use up the present pipe supply in about 60 days. A prolonged strike is expected to affect the company's August construction plans.

Whatever the strike's length, steel will soon cost more—already one United States company still producing has raised its price $3 a ton and any settlement will be at higher wage levels.

Effects will extend at least into next winter. Iron-ore shipments from American points, already below normal because of a succession of navigation difficulties through the Great Lakes waterway, now are stopped for the strike's duration and ore piles may be low six or seven months from now.

Not much relief is expected from Canadian ore because of the complicated nature of steel making.

First direct strike results in Canada were reported from Hamilton, Marmora and Windsor in Ontario.

At Hamilton several score employees of Union Drawn Steel Company, a subsidiary of Republic Steel Corporation, left their jobs in sympathy with workers in the American parent plant.

At Marmora 285 workers at the Marmora Mining Company, a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, also went on sympathy strike.

At Windsor it is predicted that navigation on the Detroit River may be cut by more than half because of reduced iron-ore shipments.

For the most part, cross-country comment was cautious. Most Manitoba spokesmen felt it was too early to make an assessment. The provincial government's bridge department has steel girders on order from the United States for delivery in the third quarter just started, and they have no indication whether there will be delay.

Park Opening Attendance Near Record

Near-record attendance at city parks was set on opening day Tuesday, playground supervisor Gordon L. Hartley said today.

Sunny skies brought droves of youngsters to the six supervised playgrounds. "A few left with bumps and bruises, but everything ran very smoothly," Hartley said.

Central and Beacon Hill parks led with close to 300 children each. The smaller parks averaged 125 but Oaklands reported a bumper attendance of 245 children at the afternoon session.

Children were rampant at Oak Bay playgrounds too. "We had a very full day," said a playground official. "The attendance was far more than we had hoped for."

Windsor and Carnarvon parks are open from 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., and Lafayette, Willows and Firemen's parks, from 9 to 11.30 a.m.

Hit the Hole, Win $10,000

EDMONTON (CP) — Renfrew baseball park here has a $10,000 hole in its left-field wall.

The prize is open to any member of a team in the Western Canada Baseball League on a hit made in a regular schedule or playoff game.

But the hole is only 4.75 inches in diameter, compared to a baseball's 2.89 inches.

LONDON BANK CASHES CRICKET BAT CHEQUE

LONDON (Reuters)—A British Army officer, in a hurry to catch a plane, used a cricket bat as a bank cheque and the bank honored it.

Maj. W. K. Hedley, stationed in Germany, thrust the bat into his father's hands at London airport with instructions to have a new blade put on it.

Then he realized he hadn't money to pay for the reblading, so he wrote a "cheque" on the bat for £3 7s 6d and pasted the proper stamp on it.

Mass Police Hunt For Ontario Killer

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (BUP)

—Every available policeman was called on duty and a roundup of known sex offenders was under way today in a search for the slayer of an attractive 25-year-old nurse's aide.

The almost nude body of Mrs. Vivian Mytruk was found Sunday under the back porch of a store near her home by two boys looking for their pet rabbit.

An autopsy report showed that she had been criminally attacked and throttled.

The victim's husband, Nicholas Mytruk, is in a hospital recovering from an injury received in a paper mill accident six months ago. When his wife failed to report on duty Sunday he called neighbors, who said Mytruk's dog had not been fed and the Saturday newspaper was still on the porch.

The murdered woman's spectacles were found near her home.

and the broken belt of her raincoat, the only article of her clothing recovered, was found half a block away.

Off-duty and holidaying constables from both the Port Arthur police force and Ontario provincial police were called back to their stations by Inspector R. H. Wannell of the criminal investigation bureau in Toronto, who took charge of the investigation.

Broad Aerial Survey Approved by Oak Bay

Oak Bay council Tuesday approved an aerial survey of the area bounded by Cedar Hill Crossroad, Gordon Head Road and Saanich boundary. About 150 acres is involved.

Hudson's Bay Company, which owns a tract in the area, will be asked to share costs of $437.

The map will be of assistance in future sewer considerations.

Income Tax Cuts Urged by Tory

(From Times News Services)

A Progressive Conservative spokesman says the government's fat budget surplus calls for tax cuts now instead of next year.

Donald Fleming said Tuesday the government has no right to continue levying high income taxes when it will end the fiscal year next March 31 with a huge surplus.

The member for Toronto-Eglinton said the basic tax exemptions on personal income—$1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married taxpayers—should be increased. He also called for an increase in the $20,000 income level at which corporation income tax changes from a 20-per-cent rate to 47 per cent.

He spoke during debate on the government's bill to enact a series of minor changes in the Income Tax Act, announced

Bill Approved in Principle

The government's tax bill was finally given second reading—approved in principle.

Other opposition speakers did not deal with the changes proposed in the bill but instead spoke of other tax matters.

Social Credit leader Low called for fair administration of the tax law.

He said one farmer, unexpectedly assessed for $30,000 in back taxes, was being threatened with loss of his farm instead of being allowed to pay the debt in annual amounts.

R. R. Knight (CCF, Saskatoon) criticized the fact that persons with high incomes pay no more than $50 under the two-per-cent levy on income for the special old age pension fund. He said it should be on a sliding scale.

Howard Green suggested Tuesday that the government seems to be seeking to give a monopoly to the Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corporation—a crown-owned company—by putting other companies out of business.

The Progressive Conservative member for Vancouver Quadra said that seems to be the intent

Crash Probers Face 700-Foot Climb

GRAND CANYON, Ariz. (AP)—Specially equipped mountaineers today started an attempt to scale a precipitous butte toward the main wreckage of a United Air Lines DC-7, one of the two airliners which fell into Arizona's Grand Canyon killing 128 persons.

Remains of three of the 58 persons aboard the plane when it smashed into the cliff Saturday, presumably after colliding in flight with a Trans World Airlines Super Constellation, were flown out of the canyon this morning.

Found at the base of the cliff, they were the first bodies recovered from the UAL craft. Sgt. Elliot Holder of Henderson, Tex., said they were the only remains found in a search of a two-mile section along the Colorado River bank at the base of the cliff.

A lot of wreckage from the plane lies in a crevice about 300 feet above the river, he said. The main body of the wreck is another 700 feet up the face of the cliff.

The experienced climbers were called in after UAL crews reported they were unable to make progress up the sheer wall because of "rotten sandy rock" which crumbles under pressure.

Seven Swiss mountaineers, being flown in from Zurich, are due to arrive Thursday to join them.

Headed by Raymond M. Batson of Boulder, Colo., a member of the Rocky Mountain rescue group, the climbers took special equipment into the gorge this morning.

They carried rock drills to bore holes in the soft rock and a type of expansion bolt to be put in the hole and tightened for use in working up the face of the cliff.

A group of seven TWA men today returned to the butte where the shattered remains of the Constellation lie: less than a mile from the wreckage of the DC-7.

A spokesman said they would give the wreckage a final combing for possible evidence about the cause of the crash.

Officials of the airlines said they could not estimate how many of the 70 victims are represented by the remains.

Mr. Speaker Resigns

MR. RENE BEAUDOIN HAS submitted his resignation as Speaker of the House of Commons. He has done the right thing. His position was intolerable. As Mr. Speaker he could not answer the criticism and accusations levelled at him. Nor could he defend the integrity of Parliament reposed in his office.

Now the public may hear Mr. Beaudoin's side of the case.

More important than any personal considerations, his precedent-making action sets in clear lines the position of a speaker. It is essential under our parliamentary system that he shall have not only the support of the majority, but the unquestioned respect of the minority.

Mr. Beaudoin has shown his deep recognition of that fact. No parliament can function properly if the minority thinks it is unfairly treated by the presiding officer, and it is the retiring speaker's conviction that the opposition would not have been satisfied with any future rulings of the chair as long as he occupied it. As a man of honor, he has stepped down to preserve the institution he represented.

This is the latest development in the long wrangle over the gas pipeline conflict. Parliament has suffered from the way that issue was handled.

It is the duty of any opposition, of course, to oppose the government, seek its destruction and, if possible, replace it. But all these battles in parliament, representing (and sometimes misrepresenting) the conflicts of opinion outside parliament, must be conducted by the rules, for the rules of debate and public behaviour are the distinguishing marks between parliamentary democracy and totalitarian systems. And the rules reside in the speaker, whoever he may be. He holds the ring between the rival forces and he must hold it fairly or parliament becomes the tool of the majority.

It is up to the House now to appoint a successor who will have the confidence of all its members.

The resignation should cause Mr. Drew and his Conservatives' very sober reflection. They, and the CCF with them, attacked the presiding officer of the House. They cannot hide behind the ill-considered comment of

Mr. J. H. Ferguson, Conservative of Simcoe North, who says: "I believe that the Liberal Government has crucified one of the finest men that was ever here."

If it means anything, that statement means that Mr. Speaker Beaudoin—who by his very office had to stand on his own feet—was the tool of the Government. What more serious personal condemnation could be made?

There is no escape for Mr. Drew and his supporters in such a suggestion. They must accept their responsibility.

The new situation revives Prime Minister St. Laurent's earlier statement that he is prepared to consider the adoption of the British practice, under which the speaker is chosen for life and thus freed from all party affiliations.

By tacit agreement between the political parties, his re-election in his own constituency is not disputed. He becomes a figure altogether apart from partisan controversy and, as governments change, often has no old affiliations with the party in power. He belongs solely to the House of Commons and becomes less a man than an institution.

In Canada, however, it is our custom to appoint a new speaker in every new Parliament, the office rotating between the English-speaking and French-speaking races. There is much to be said for this arrangement which recognizes the two great elements in our society but there is still more to be said, we think, for a speakership which disregards both racial and political conflicts and endures, unchallenged, through successive parliaments.

Whatever temporary arrangements may be made, when the next Parliament is elected, perhaps next autumn and certainly within about twelve months, Mr. St. Laurent or his successor will be wise to propose the British arrangement to the opposition. If agreement on this change could be reached between the parties—and both of them must be satisfied with it—the position of the speakership in future will not be dragged into party politics as, unhappily, has happened in Ottawa of late.

A Matriarch's Dancing

FOR MANY PERSONS ATTENDING the "Tallest Totem" dedication on Dominion Day, the high point was achieved when Mungo Martin and his family reproduced a native dance, characteristic of such celebrations.

The aged chief began to beat on a tom-tom and chant, while the younger Kwakiutls danced.

As the throbbing beat increased in tempo Mungo's wife, seated on the platform, began to hum in time with the rhythm. After a few moments, the urge to participate apparently became too strong; she stood up, aged and infirm as she was, and began gracefully to weave her arms in the ageless movement of the ritual dance.

Watching the matriarch, the vast audience was hushed. Here, they sensed, was an ancient instinct, suddenly rekindled and awakened from some deep inner resource in her culture.

It might, perhaps, have been beyond the comprehension of the white people in the audience—but they knew that it was fine, and strangely moving, and they showed their appreciation with warm applause for the first lady of the tribe.

He That Hath Ears to Hear

THE MODERN JET FIGHTER creates such a noise that civilian populations in Canadian and United States cities close to air defence stations are already complaining.

Those complaints are not ignored by Air Defence Command Headquarters, but they have so far inspired no plan by which the cause of civilian objections can be removed.

The situation has been defined by Air Commodore E. M. Reyno, deputy air officer commanding Air Defence. "Considering sound as measured in decibels," he says, "a man cannot yell loud enough to be heard over a noise that measures 98 decibels and from 98 to 140 decibels there is actual physical discomfort and often pain.

"Our F86's with which our squadrons in Europe are equipped fall just short, when opened out, of the ear-piercing decibel count. I have not yet heard what the engine of our new aircraft, which we expect in a year or two, will sound like but I suspect the decibel count will be high.

"There is no doubt you will be hearing more about this subject in the future, but when you do, be sure and remember how necessary our job is and why we must fly these aircraft in spite of the ear splitting noise feature.

"I have no doubt that we will have to take steps on our stations to minimize as much as possible this nuisance, if I must call it that, because if had enough it will wake the children sleeping in the afternoon and might even shake the odd piece of crystal off the dresser, but these will be isolated instances and will be the exception rather than the rule.

"We will find that just as we have to live with the whistle of the trains, the roar of big city traffic and noises of fog horns along our coasts, we will all have to live with the whine of the jet engine.

"The good thing about it will be that we will be listening to the whine of our own jet engines."

Air Commodore Reyno has spoken frankly. The prospect of another ear-piercing noise to add to the cacophony of modern living is not attractive, necessary as it may be for national defence.

It does, however, point up an argument made by those who make provision for wilderness recreation in this country. Canadians will need more parks and campsites if for no other reason than to escape the noises of 20th Century living and the mental strains they place upon them.

For Full Enjoyment

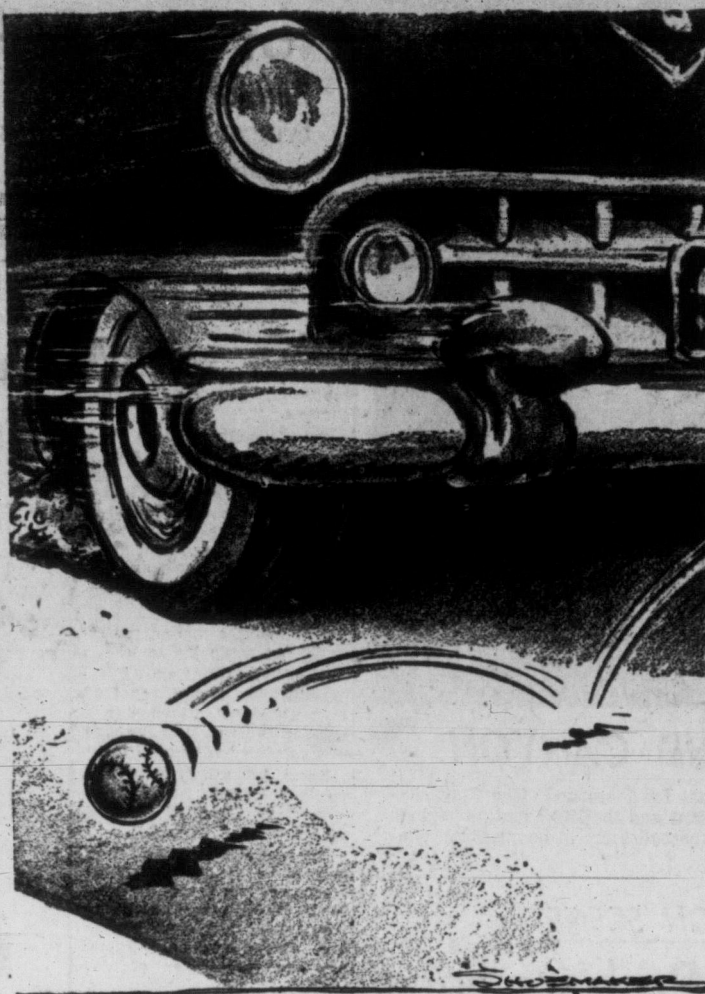

IT IS A MATTER OF PUBLIC satisfaction—as well as another example of the practical accomplishments of Mr. Scurrah's civic administration—that the question of Goldstream Park is near settlement.

This means that a very beautiful and accessible spot should now receive the development it deserves as a public playground. The curling stream, the age-old maples and cedars of the valley at the foot of the Malahat have long been favorite attractions for many Victorians, but there has been little encouragement for picnicking families and other groups to take advantage of the area.

Under provincial parks branch auspices proper development would take place—a job which was not rightly Victoria's alone since the park was equally available to all residents of this part of the Island. From its experience in many similar cases, the parks branch may be expected to provide for full public enjoyment while still preserving the natural beauties of the site.

Where There's a Ball, There's a Boy

REPORT FROM OTTAWA

Mr. Beaudoin and Letters That Came Into Print

AFTER the turbulent pipeline debate, comparative calm had returned to the House of Commons. Tensions were reduced. Then they increased as the calm was shattered and events led to the submission of Mr. Speaker Beaudoin's resignation on Monday.

Mr. Speaker had exchanged some private correspondence with French friends. Excerpts from one of them, containing blunt comments concerning the opposition, were published in the Montreal newspaper La Patrie.

The letter was written to Alonzo Cinq-Mars, an editorial writer of the Montreal newspaper. He quoted from Mr. Speaker's letter in a signed editorial. He thought he was doing Mr. Beaudoin a favour, as the editorial was defending Mr. Speaker's position in the recent pipeline debate. Mr. Cinq-Mars did not know it but he had placed Mr. Speaker—and indirectly the Government—in an almost impossible position. Publication of the letter in English language papers brought editorials in eastern newspapers demanding that Mr. Speaker Beaudoin submit his resignation.

There were two paragraphs from Mr. Beaudoin's personal letter that were quoted in the Montreal paper's editorial. By far the most damaging was one which read: "If I had had the chance to speak,

I have no doubt that it would have been easy for me to confound my accusers. . . . The hardest thing of the whole matter was for me to be incapable of explaining myself while my accusers falsified the facts for their political ends." The "accusers" referred to were obviously the members of the Progressive Conservative and CCF opposition who, during the pipeline debate, denounced Mr. Speaker for "favouring" the Government in his rulings.

Each of the Speaker's letters was addressed to Mr. Cinq-Mars' private residence and each of Mr. Cinq-Mars' letters was dated from his home. The publication of portions of one of the Speaker's letters put the fact properly in the fire.

This incident only served to worsen an already bad atmosphere in the Commons. Opposition members in the Con-

Vogee Case

The other day we received the bad news of the demotion of our principal, Arthur E. Vogee.

I feel this action is very unjust and undemocratic. Seventy-five per cent of the parents and pupils stand loyally behind Mr. Vogee.

Arthur E. Vogee has been principal of Mt. Newton School for ten years and in that time has passed a large number of splendid students who have proved the worth of this man's ability to teach and inspire his students to good citizenship.

Dr. H. Johns, who has never held the office of principal, is a poor man to judge administration. He has been responsible for giving to Mt. Newton, teachers lacking in ability, discipline, and loyalty.

I feel the public should know the truth of this situation.

Indonesia

Recently I saw in your paper the speech of Mr. Sukarno, the President of the Indonesian Republic. Naturally, being born in that country, I was interested to see what he had to say. He did not disappoint me, for his talk was all I had expected. By now the Dutch are getting used to this kind of propaganda, and maybe I should let it go, but I am still feeling too strongly about the whole affair.

I know from personal experience, that besides having made mistakes, the Dutch also have done an enormous amount of good in Indonesia, especially right after the Second World War.

I could talk for hours on this subject, but it just makes me mad to see these broad statements, and all I would like to ask you is, if you see fit, to print my letter. I hope that you will accept my "nom de plume."

Return to Religion

Anent Dr. Sherman's comments on the observations of Norman Birbaum, especially the conclusion, "It is the anxiety of existence itself which haunts those with two automobiles as well as those who walk," she seems to think it is the religious who are full of fear.

It is, on the other hand, the non-religious who are returning to religion because they are full of fear—of fear that perhaps they have wasted or misused their existence. The religious can have little fear buoyed up as they are. Perhaps however it was the superstitious she had in mind.

Certainly the religious are not "self-centred," since religion—the Christian—is rather opposed to selfishness and is very insistent on social consciousness. Here again the self-centred and self-indulgent may be seeking religion as a cure. Religious people can afford to be cheerful and happy because they are sure of themselves and socially conscious because religion is love.

At the Hearings

Since Chief Justice Gordon Sloan has reproved Mr. Wismer for irrelevances during his vocal attack upon Gordon Gibson's statements, it might be pertinent to recall Mr. Gibson's courage in support of truth during the legislative sittings.

To attach to Mr. Gibson the unsavory word "saboteur" Mr. Wismer has drawn attention only to himself—it was most noticeable that he cleverly skirted about H. R. MacMillan while sniping with direct aim at Gordon Gibson—why?

It seems obvious that Mr. Wismer mixes twisted resentments of a personal nature with his processes of reasoning, all of which had no place in a Royal Commission.

I know neither of these men personally, but, like many, I remember much and it has been noticeable that Mr. Gibson serves principle. His impulsive utterances are the outcome of a responsible individuality; he is growing towards service in and for Canada; he attends to what clearly lies at hand to safeguard his fellow men and his country.

For Australian Radio—Only the Brave and Intelligent

THE board which controls Australian broadcasting has decreed that the heroes and heroines of juvenile radio and TV shows must be intelligent and full of moral courage. Not only the heroes and heroines, but all the sympathetic characters . . . the Good Guys.

In making fun of this law, The Times (London) goes a little astray. It says that while the heroes of old-fashioned stories were very resourceful, brave, etc., the heroines got into foolish scrapes continually.

This is not how I remember juvenile fiction in my own time, and I don't think it is true even today. The truth is (or was) that the hero of any thriller (for kids or grown-ups) needs to be fairly stupid in order to spin out the plot. Stupidity is by no means confined to females. The hero of a Bulldog Drummond type of story is always getting tied up and knocked on the head.

Time after time he escapes only to be caught by the bad guys again and tied up once more. About every third chapter he wakes up with a splitting headache and asks "Where am I?" He never learns.

I CAN remember, at 13 or so, getting terribly fed up with the John Buchan heroes who rushed blindly into peril, got knocked on the head, and woke trussed. I didn't realize that after a hero has had concussion enough, his judgment is impaired. I thought it was the author who was loading the dice against his heroes' common sense, when really it was all those blows on the head that led to subsequent deeds of folly.

But never mind, no hero was ever as feeble-minded as Othello. I hope Australian radio or TV will bring out a revised version of "Othello" in which the hero has some rudiments of sense . . . a phrase applied by Alan Breck Stewart to David Balfour, another hero whose wits didn't struggle long very fast either.

BANG, BANG

MY daughters are very good, or very thrifty, about not reminding me to pay their allowances regularly. The debt piles up for weeks and months at a time. The other day they had occasion for some sort of spree, and one of them approached me and said, "Let's set off a few allowances, shall we?" As if they were fireworks. That is a wonderful phrase . . . to set off a few bucks, bang, bang. I shall steal that one. Don't you steal it, I heard it first.

'OO BE E?

I M told by a man, who heard it from a Glaswegian, that a prominent employee of the City of Glasgow was given an OBE, and went to the Town Clerk to see about getting his expenses paid to Buckingham Palace and back. "Oh, no," said the Town Clerk, "we've had enough of this expenses racket. You know what OBE means, don't you?" "Of course I do," said the civic official, "it means Order of the British Empire." "No, it doesn't," said the Town Clerk, "it means Own Blinking Expenses." (Or some such adjective.) "Now if you'd got a CBE," he went on, "that would have been different. That means Corporation's Blinking Expenses."

ALL HANDS TO REPEL CALLERS

A PAL of mine in Vancouver answered an advertisement for the sale of a small boat. He phoned the number given, and was told to proceed to an address in Vancouver's West End. He went there, and knocked at the door, and the door was thrown open by a man so startling in appearance my friend backed away. "Won't you come in?" says mine host, the boatman. "No, thank you," says mine pal, who is a conventional type, and easily disconcerted. He just wanted to go home, and the heck with the little boat.

People who answer doors are usually trying to discourage sales, not to promote them. The man selling the boat had probably got so used to scaring away salesmen, it never occurred to him that he was now supposed to dress for a different role, and be an ingratiating charmer.

ONE of the many reasons I want to be a door-to-door salesman is to do a little research into the way people answer doors. I do not think there will ever be a Royal Commission on door-answering, so if we want information we must just go out and knock for it ourselves. I shall be willing to accept every possible type of door-knocking experience, in the interests of research. But I hope I am spared the experience of a friend of mine who worked his way through college by delivering bread in the summers. He knocked at a door and a woman rushed out and hit him over the head with a milk bottle (empty). That's no way to treat a breadman. Maybe she thought he was a milkman. He never found out what she thought. She didn't say. Her motto was "Deeds, not words."

DIXIE

I MET a chap who said he'd just got back from the South, the Deep South, the Real Deep South. I said "New Orleans?" and he said "No, deeper . . . Peru." Well, honey-chile, you gotta go deeper still to eat Terrapin del Fuego. But Peru's where you'll find dat Inca-black mammy of mine.

BETTER FORGOTTEN

Technique's an awfully dangerous word for an actor to become aware of. I think the best thing to do with technique in acting is to forget it. A whole play has to be governed by a series of different rhythms and speeds and volumes and lack of volume, but at the same time, when you come to act it you must forget all that, which is the most difficult thing to do, and become entirely concentrated on the situation, the truth and reality of it, and that indeed is the problem of an actor.

—Keith Michel, a young Australian actor now appearing in London.

Jottings in a Bathtub

LONDON—Random jottings... Bennett Cerf, U.S. publisher, What's My Line, and editor of joke books, is in town to do some business and in between times deliver some of his best anecdotes, including one that has always tickled me, not so much because of a funny payoff line but because of the amusing picture it conjures up.

It is the true story of an important business man who always had his speeches ghost-written for him. On one occasion he went up onto the platform with a speech he hadn't bothered to read over beforehand. He came to this passage: "... which reminds me of one of my favorite anecdotes..." But far from it being in fact one of his pet jokes, it was one which the ghost-writer had put in that he had never heard before, and when he'd read it he laughed so much that he broke his glasses and the chairman had to read the rest of his speech for him.

And speaking of speeches, the Duke of Edinburgh continues to delight folks here with his avoidance of pomposity when he gets up to make a speech flanked by a lot of self-important people. He is emerging as a crusader against people making dull speeches when they are weighed down by what they feel is the dignity of the occasion.

YOUR HEALTH

Operation Too Costly

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine Mayo Foundation

A man with such a small income that he has little chance of saving much tells me he needs an operation, for which his surgeon asks $500. After paying the hospital fees he doubts if any of his savings will be left, and so he wonders what he should do. There are thousands of persons like this man, who, while they certainly do not want charity, are unable to pay a large fee. I feel that they should not try to do it. Usually, in such cases, a kindly surgeon will help by paring down his fee so that it will better fit the size of the person's purse. In some large cities there are clinics in which a patient can pay as much for his care as he can afford. In every city there are kindly surgeons who will operate on poor children for nothing; they will make no charge for repairing a hare-lip or defective hip-joints.

Dr. Alvarez

I will never forget years ago, on the day before Christmas, stepping into a hospital room to see a patient who, 10 days previously, had been operated on by a kindly surgeon. A frail little unmarried woman of 50, she was largely dependent on her none-too-strong older sister, an assistant librarian. Finding the patient crying quietly, I asked her what was wrong. She said, "Nothing is wrong; I am crying for joy. My surgeon was just in and, with a smile, he said, 'I have a Christmas present for you.' Expecting perhaps some little thing like a card, I asked, 'What is it?' and he replied, 'Your operation.' I am giving you that for Christmas." Now I am weeping because a tremendous weight of worry has been lifted from my mind; now my sister will not have to go so deeply into her little hoard of savings. It had been distressing me terribly to think that I would have to add so greatly to her anxieties for the future."

HOW TO HANDLE THE MENTALLY ILL. Many of the distracted persons in a family in which one member has become mentally disturbed can be greatly helped by a manual just put out by the National Association for Mental Health (1790 Broadway, New York City). It was written by Drs. Robert A. Matthews and Lloyd W. Rowland. Persons desiring a copy should write to the association—not to me.

Important points made are that one must be patient with a mentally ill person. He is just as ill as if he had typhoid fever or pneumonia. The only difference is that his brain

Jack Benny was a huge hit in the first of his series of live hour-long shows for BBC television. General comment was that if it's an example of American TV comedy, the Americans are streets ahead of the English in this department.

Idle comment, after reading a letter my wife handed me from a woman friend of hers in Canada... Why is it that when women write to each other they almost always include a passage such as: "Pardon the scrawl, but I'm writing this in bed," or "This pen is terrible, sorry" or "Can't seem to make this typewriter work properly"? I can't remember getting a letter from a man in which he drew attention to his poor penmanship or his lack of typing ability. Yet women invariably feel it calls for comment. Why?

T. E. B. Clarke, one of Britain's top film script writers, has returned from his first trip across the Atlantic with various criticisms of things on that side—including baths. "I used to imagine Hollywood was the home of the super-tub," he says, "yet neither there nor anywhere else on that continent did I find a bath in which I could fully extend my modest 5 ft. 9 in. I have some of my best ideas while wallowing in my bath, but Americans and Canadians seem to regard it merely as a washing convenience. Ablutions are a waste of time—get 'em over quick. Hence the popularity of the shower."

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

and not his bowel or his lung is injured. One should never threaten him or bully him or strike him or call him names.

As the great Clifford Beers wrote in that wonderful book, "A Mind That Found Itself," one should never try to get a mentally ill person into a hospital under false pretenses. This causes him to distrust his family and to cut himself off from them. When Mr. Beers was shanghaied into a mental hospital in this way he could not imagine that the man who had played such a trick on him could have been his dear brother. As a result, he spent two years trying to find some way of convincing himself that the man who claimed to be his brother really was.

People should know that mental patients are confused and often frightened, and if someone then orders them about, they are the more alarmed. Let us remember that a frightened man is likely to fight back. Often he could be reassured and quieted if the attendant would only speak to him in a friendly way; or give a reason for his request, or if he would treat the patient as if he were sane.

SURPRISE FOR RELATIVE

Many a time in my office the relative who brought in a mentally disturbed patient was surprised to see how normal the man was with me. A patient later said, he was delighted to find someone who evidently saw that he was sane much of the time, and who then treated him as sane. Several times I have talked a dangerously psychotic man into going home, packing his bag and going to a mental hospital. He agreed with me that he was mentally disturbed, and he was frightened about the change in himself. He agreed that it would be well if, for a time, he would go somewhere where he would be safe from injuring others and himself, and where he could be treated for his illness.

As it stated in the new manual, many of the persons who are depressed are really highly intelligent and good citizens who, at times, contribute much to the intellectual life of their community. I always talk to such persons as if they were sane; and then they talk sanely to me.

Anyone who hopes to help the psychotic or the insane must have great self-control and great patience and understanding so that he will not get angry when the man becomes argumentative or even insulting. One should never get into an angry argument with a psychotic person. Neither should one agree with a paranoiac when he says that a man on the next farm is beaming radar at him. One should agree that the patient is disturbed, but one can quietly suggest that there may be some other explanation for this.

CARETAKER CONVICTED ON THREAT TO KILL IKE

DENVER (AP)—After two days' deliberation, a United States District Court jury Tuesday convicted Sam Stepp, 35, a Buena Vista, Colo., mine caretaker, of threatening to kill President Eisenhower.

Stepp, who has been arrested many times since 1940 on charges of disturbance, drunkenness and vagrancy, faces a maximum sentence of five years in prison and a $1,000 fine.

A bartender, Charles D. Sandoval, testified he heard Stepp say: "President Eisenhower is a German... and if I ever get close enough to him, I will kill him. I have a .30-30 bullet for him."

HOME GARDEN By JACK BEASTALL

Tips on Exhibiting Vegetables in Show

Every year there are gardeners intending to put vegetables in one or other of the fall shows, and every year some will back out when the time comes.

Often the crops are not in good enough condition because of insufficient attention from now until show time. Here are a few hints for would-be exhibitors:

Potatoes rank high in point value in a collection of vegetables and meet stiff competition in the open classes. To get the required number of suitable sized, nicely shaped tubers, select likely specimens as you dig for household use during August.

Bury the selected tubers immediately and carefully, marking their location clearly for later digging. The fork usually goes through the best tubers, so dig with extreme care.

Remove the earth from around the onions now, so that firm, well-shaped bulbs can develop. Loose or split skins should also be carefully removed to leave one unbroken, even-colored surface for exhibiting. Skinning a day or so before the show is not good.

Runners beans and late peas should be kept well picked to promote further flowering, and well watered. As show time nears, mark young straight pods with a colored tie. For the show bench, select those equal in size which will be at their peak during the hour of judging.

Keep the tops of the carrot roots covered with fine soil to prevent the green caps which indicate poor culture and cause loss of prizes. Turn marrow, squash and cucumbers regularly for even coloring. Yellow patches lose points.

Ceylon Would Emulate India, Pakistan, Leader Tells PMs

LONDON (Reuters)—Ceylon outlined to the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference today her plans for future relationship with the Commonwealth once she becomes a republic.

Authoritative sources said it is Ceylon's desire to follow the example of her Asian neighbors, India and Pakistan, and remain in the Commonwealth as a republic.

The program was defined by Solomon Bandaranaike, the island's newly-elected Socialist prime minister, when the nine prime ministers met to discuss the question of Commonwealth membership.

India and Pakistan received their independence from Britain in 1947 and later decided to become republics within the Commonwealth. In their new republican role, these two countries no longer owe any allegiance to the British crown but they recognize Queen Elizabeth as the symbolic head of the Commonwealth.

This formula giving constitutional validity to their position was devised by a Commonwealth prime ministers' conference seven years ago after India took the decision to become a republic. It set the precedent for Pakistan's later decision.

Ceylon's continuance in the Commonwealth after she becomes a republic requires the unanimous consent of all the

Press Generally Approves Resignation of Beaudoin

By The Canadian Press
Excerpts from editorial comment by Canadian newspapers on the resignation of Speaker Beaudoin:

Toronto Globe and Mail (Ind.)—Mr. Beaudoin says he intended to resign "more than once" during the pipeline debate. He should have done so. As it is, he resigns at the worst possible time and in the worst possible way—belatedly, dishonorably, under the pressure of public opinion. But if he comes out of it badly, the Liberal government comes out of it worse.

Toronto Star (Ind. Lib.)—Speaker Rene Beaudoin has taken the honorable course in offering his resignation to the House of Commons... It is not proved that the government directed or even suggested any of the Speaker's rulings during the pipeline debate. Nevertheless the tragedy of Mr. Beaudoin strongly argues that the office of Speaker should be put on a permanent or semi-permanent basis after the next election, so that its occupant may be free from political pressure, either immediately or long-range.

Toronto Telegram (Ind.)—Hon. Rene Beaudoin has taken the hard but honorable course of submitting his resignation. Since it is the government that has damaged the prestige of the Speaker's office... the government should feel that there is no alternative but to instruct its followers to accept Mr. Beaudoin's resignation.

The Winnipeg Free Press (Ind. Lib.)—The Speaker is in an untenable position. He might be impeccably impartial in future. But any decision that he makes which favors the government—no matter how correct that decision may be—will be suspect in the eyes of the Opposition. By reason of circumstances over which he has had little control, Mr. Beaudoin's usefulness as a Speaker is at an end... But in submitting his resignation he has chosen the right course. The government should now display equal wisdom by accepting the resignation.

Calgary Herald (Ind.)—Rene Beaudoin's resignation as Speaker of the House of Commons must surely be accepted; indeed it is not enough. The Liberal government should also resign. Sadly it is not Mr. Beaudoin who is at fault. His actions during the pipeline debate are wide open to suspicion that heavy government pressure was brought to bear on him. This government is responsible for the mess in which Parliament today finds itself.

Calgary Albertan (Ind.)—The Conservative and CCF attack on Speaker Rene Beaudoin of the House of Commons has been political all the way along. Spokesmen for the two parties admitted, even during their motion to formally censure him, that they were really after the government, and that whatever offences were committed to the government, not the speaker. But in their frenzied effort to discredit the government in the pipeline case they were willing in the process to destroy perhaps the best speaker the House of Commons has ever had.

Well, they now have his resignation. But we can't think they have crucified him. He will be a force in the House of Commons for a long while yet and as a private member or a cabinet minister he won't have to endure silently the abuse that has been his lot in the last few weeks.

Bennett Meets Lesage Today

Premier W. A. C. Bennett Tuesday criticized the federal government for lack of vision and dynamic policies in opening up Canada.

The attack was made on the eve of the premier's meeting with Federal Resources Minister Jean Lesage to discuss the thorny international rivers question and particularly hydro development of the Columbia. Mr. Lesage is to arrive here today.

The premier said his criticism was not directed specifically at the federal government's hydro policies but at its over-all program.

Asked by reporters to state what line his government would take in Wednesday's discussions, the premier said:

"Our policy is to protect the people of B.C. not just temporarily but on the long term."

Then he added: "We have an open mind. We'll take a second look at anything."

Premier Bennett said Lands and Forests Minister Ray Wiliston, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and two or three other top government officials will take part in the discussions with Mr. Lesage and his advisers.

An earlier meeting was cancelled last month when Mr. Le-sage postponed his trip because of the pipeline debate in the Commons.

The meeting is a preliminary to talks between the Canadian and U.S. governments on the international waterways dispute.

Premier Bennett said Wednesday's talks would be "just friendly discussion." He denied there would be any negotiation between the federal and provincial governments.

Joe Malinsky, 73-year-old water diviner from Selkirk, Man., and his son demonstrate how their four-rod apparatus for discovering water operates. When the rods cross it's a sign that water flows beneath the surface of the land directly below. On the basis of a "discovery" by the Malinsky apparatus, the small town of Manitou, 100 miles southwest of Winnipeg, has started drilling on its proposed $226,000 water-works project.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Defiant Merchant Tore Down Sign

VANCOUVER — A defiant merchant who tore down a temporary no-parking sign in front of his premises received a sympathetic hearing from traffic commission Tuesday.

J. W. Gilson, manager of Frozen Food Lockers, complained that signs erected the day before a soccer game at Empire Stadium June 9 caused a loss of business.

The commission agreed to send Mr. Gilson a letter saying no-parking signs will not be put up outside his premises until the afternoon of future games.

DIED NATURALLY

VANCOUVER — Lloyd Frederick Dale, 54, found dead in the basement of the home of Mrs. Molly Dialogowsky, may have died from natural causes, police said Tuesday.

DRUG EDUCATION

VANCOUVER — High school students will receive "factual, accurate and non-emotional" instruction in narcotics addiction, school board officials announced Tuesday.

FOOTBALLER DEAD

VANCOUVER — Rev. Robert Pearson, 77, a former president of the Western Canada Football League, died Tuesday.

He was prominent in missionary and YMCA circles.

SHOOTING SPREE

BURNABY — Gwyn Brown-John, charged with illegal possession of an offensive weapon, was freed on $1,000 bail.

He was taken into custody after his television set, stove and refrigerator had been punctured by rifle bullets. He told the court he was "pretty drunk" at the time.

WOMAN KILLED

BURNABY — Mrs. Mary Chase, 45, was killed in a two-car North Burnaby crash Tuesday night but her husband and daughter escaped uninjured.

MISS QUESNEL

QUESNEL — Frances McLeod, 18-year-old bank teller, has been chosen as Miss Quesnel and will represent the district in the Miss PNE contest next month at Vancouver.

THREE HURT

KAMLOOPS — Three persons were injured in a head-on traffic accident eight miles west of Kamloops Tuesday.

Taken to Royal Inland Hospital for treatment were June Cargile, 17; Barbara Thumpe, 44; and Lloyd Cisco, 38. William John Hodges, driver of a half-ton truck which collided with a car driven by Cisco was charged with criminal negligence.

Freedom of London

For Nehru, Holland

LONDON (Reuters) — Prime Ministers Nehru of India and Holland of New Zealand drove through the streets of London in two black and gold horse-drawn coaches Tuesday to receive, in a ceremony of vivid pageantry, the freedom of the City.

The "freedom" is the highest honor the City—the financial centre of London—can bestow for exceptional services.

Veterans to Ask Check on Houses Now Up for Sale

Central Mortgage Tenants' Meeting May Demand Unbiased Appraisal

An unbiased appraisal of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation homes which have been offered for sale to tenants is expected to be asked by a meeting tonight of the war veterans affected.

Many feel the Crown corporation's asking prices are too high. A meeting of the veterans will be held tonight at Britannia Branch Canadian Legion to discuss a possible protest action.

Spokesman G. S. Paterson, 1652 Edgeware, said today:

"The CMHC homes were built in the post-war years for low-rent lease to veterans with at least two children. The rent has been fair."

He said from time to time the company had released blocks of the homes for sale to the tenants. The last block of 200 is now being disposed of in this manner in this locality.

"A no-basement house, without central heating, no plaster, no ceiling coves, no hardwood flooring, is offered at $7,250," said Mr. Paterson. "The price is thought to be too high by 80 per cent of the veterans concerned."

He said similar homes, built in 1947, were sold in 1949 for $3,900. "Some veterans made a profit by re-selling, which may be the reason the price has gone up."

Mr. Paterson said he thought that was also the reason CMHC had introduced a clause in new sales contracts whereby a veteran would obtain a $4,000 reduction if he remained in possession of the house for two years after he purchased it. (In the event of a bona fide transfer of employment from this area before expiration of the two-year period, the discount is also allowed.)

IN POOR CONDITION

Mr. Paterson said the meeting tonight will probably ask for an unbiased appraisal of the homes. "Some of them are in poor condition and no one has been around to look at them, from the renting company."

C. J. Dowling, manager of CMHC here, said today: "The prices have been set by Ottawa."

Sentence Commuted

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower has commuted to 55 years' imprisonment the death sentence given Pte. Richard A. Hagelberger of Buffalo, N.Y., for his part in the slaying of two Germans four years ago.

They are in line with others which have been offered for sale across Canada."

City Tennis Dates Set

Victoria city tennis tournament, open to any player residing in a 20-mile radius of the city, will open at the Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club courts Saturday, July 14.

Play in five events, men's and ladies' singles; men's and ladies' doubles and mixed doubles, will continue through the following week, with finals to be held Saturday, July 21.

Entries close Friday, July 13, and may be made at the club or sent to secretary-manager J. Robson, phone 2-1923.

Solarium Corner

The winner of the 1956 Ford Fairlane sedan, main prize in the 1956 Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association Solarium Derby July 22, can thank Wes Fulton.

It was Wes' idea in 1954 to put up a brand new car as main prize for the one-day fishoff, and that year the VSIAA, in co-sponsorship with the Times, turned over a record $6,723 to the Queen Alexandra Solarium for crippled children.

That was Wes' first year as chairman of the derby committee after being co-chairman in 1953. Last year he was chairman once more, but this year relinquished the reins of the derby to George Douglas because pressure of business was too much.

Wes is still selling tickets for the derby, though, at $1 apiece, and is certain that this year's $7,000 objective will be reached. Members and non-members of the VSIAA can get a chance at the 1956 Ford by buying a ticket off Wes at 4-7191 or 3-5284.

Aussie Aces Favored In Semis

From AP and UP Dispatches

WIMBLEDON, England—Like traditional fourth of July fireworks which naturally are unheard of in this country, Americans Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson might sparkle briefly in the semi-finals today when they meet in the Wimbledon men's tennis championships.

They were arrayed against the two greatest Australian players and if both Americans should win it would be a major surprise.

Philadelphia Vic, who is seeded eighth, opposed second seeded Rosewall, and if Seixas is on his game he might spring an upset. Richardson, the Baton Rouge, La., better who now is a student at Oxford University, opposes top-seeded Hoad, rated as the world's best amateur, and if six-seeded Ham were to win it would be a shaking surprise.

Tuesday brought a couple of upsets in the men's doubles. The prospective U.S. Davis Cup pair of Vic Seixas and Ham Richardson lost to Italy's fine team of Nicola Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola, 6-3, 8-10, 6-3, 6-4.

The other upset removed the fourth-seeded pair, Luis Ayala of Chile and Sven Davidson of Sweden. They were beaten by the young Australian Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2. Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola met Cooper and Fraser in the semi-final. Both pairs were unseeded.

Jones Takes Golf Title

Ted Jones won the handicap championship of Cedar Hill Golf Club over the weekend in the annual tournament.

Flight champions were Ron Saunders, Harry Leinweber, Harry Bell and John Callan. J. Coffey added another to the lengthy list of holes-in-one recorded at Cedar Hill when he poked in his tee shot with a 7-iron on the 105-yard 18th hole. He was playing with M. Berdahl, C. Doty and Miss G. Berry.

CANADIAN CREW BEATEN

HENLEY ON THAMES, England (AP)—The Brockville, Ont., Rowing Club was eliminated from the Royal Henley regatta today by one of England's strongest rowing clubs, the Thames Rowing Club.

The husky Canadian crew put up a strong fight in the opening heat of the Thames Challenge Cup competition for lightweight eights, but the Thames Club B team finished two-thirds of a length ahead.

Bays Trim Jr. Rocks, Boost Lead

Foul Bay pulled eight points ahead of the field Tuesday night, thumping Junior Shamrocks, 11-5, for their ninth Senior B Lacrosse League victory in 10 games.

Ken Barnes and Andy Anderson scored three goals each for the winners with Ralph Lyndon and Bob McKee scoring two each for Junior Shamrocks.

In peewee action, Saanich Greens rallied for an 8-8 tie with Fernwood and Saanich Tigers beat Oak Bay, 9-8.

FAIRFIELD, MCNUTTS JUVENILE VICTORS
Fairfield and McNutt's Grocery came up with victories in the Juvenile Boys' Softball League Tuesday night.

Ken Oliphant pitched a four-hitter to lead Fairfield to a 5-2 victory over S. J. Willis with Lynn Mather hitting a base-clearing double for the winners.

Jerry Caldwell was the winning pitcher as McNutt's downed Fairfield, 14-7.

INSIDE BASEBALL FOR LITTLE LEAGUERS

This diagram shows what should happen if a batter bunts the ball back to the pitcher with a runner on first base. There is a good chance that this play will work in Little League because the runner must remain on first until the ball reaches the batter, so the force play at second is in order, and a second out may be added unless the batter is a very fast runner.

On this play an alert catcher can help out the pitcher by telling him where to throw the ball as he charges in to field it. The shortstop takes the throw, touches second base for the force-out and fires the ball to the first baseman who has retreated to cover first when he sees that the pitcher will field the ball. The second baseman, racing over to cover first if the bunt should bounce toward the first baseman, swings in back of the base as back-up man for an overthrow. The third baseman, after breaking with the pitch, rushes back to cover third in case of a bad throw at one of the other bases.

STOP T-MEN; BELLIES HERE

Pils Upset Irish Bucket

Pilseners 9, Timbermen 6

What was supposed to be a fortuitous week for Victoria Shamrocks in the Intercity Lacrosse League started off with an uncomfortable bump Tuesday night.

With Shamrocks facing New Westminster twice this week and Vancouver Pilseners going against first-place Nanaimo twice, it appeared that the schedule favored Victoria in the close battle for second place.

But Pils upset the thinking in Vancouver Tuesday night as they defeated the Shamrocks, 9-6, giving the Nanaimo squad their third defeat in 18 games, two at the hands of Pils.

The result is that tonight, Shamrocks, instead of trying to pad a second-place lead, will be battling to get back into second place. Pilseners having taken a one-game edge over the Victoria club.

Shamrocks host last-place Salmonbellies at Memorial Arena tonight and the clubs have a rematch at New Westminster Thursday night. Pils travel to Nanaimo Saturday night.

It was a costly night all-round for Nanaimo. Not only did they lose the game but they also lost two players. Tom White left the floor with a severe gash on his mouth while defenceman Bob Raffle was taken out on a stretcher with a badly-wrenched knee.

Shamrocks will be without vacationing Jackie Northington tonight but will welcome back Pee-wee Bradshaw from the disabled list. Bradshaw will be on a forward line with coach Whitey Severson and Al Gill.

Normie McLeod scored for Vancouver after 15 minutes of play, and John Halley answered for the Royals.

WHAT'S THE SCORE? BY Denny Boyd

WHAT THEY WERE SAYING...
Bob Fleming, after winning the Cowichan Open Golf Tournament Sunday—"I hit the ball better today than I ever hit it before."

Which is saying a lot, for a guy who has hit as many good golf shots as our Bob has in his golf career. But Bob has re-mastered his game again, as the three tournaments he has won in the last three weeks will testify. A new swing action, which called for a radical re-make of his left hand action, has been completed and Bob has his confidence and his patently-pretty shots back.

On Sunday, Fleming hit 32 out of 36 greens in regulation figures. In the 36 holes, he missed only one putt under six feet. In his morning 18 holes, he went over par on only one hole and that was a six for a lost ball. He hit only one admittedly bad iron shot all day.

Bob plans to bypass the PPGA tourney in Vancouver next weekend but he will be there, waiting with that quiet intensity of his, in the B.C. Closed in Vancouver July 21 and 22. "That one," says Bob, "is very important for Willingdon Cup selection and I hope to make a good showing in it."

Bob has had a taste of Willingdon Cup conditions but such honors are like salted peanuts or olives—one taste isn't enough.

When Fleming is on his game, the only way you can beat him is with a baseball bat. Right now, he is on his game—solidly—after having an off-year caused by experimentation with his swing.

The Willingdon Cup committee is said to have selection problems this year.

But maybe Bob Fleming is solving one of the problems for them.

The lady who phoned the office early Tuesday morning—
"How much do you charge for your quarter-sides of veal?"
Which was just about the wrongest number we ever did hear of.

Lowell Hodges, who had reason to appreciate it—
"Prior made one Helluva play on that bunt. He came roaring-off the mound with the runner breaking in from third, scooped up the bunt with his bare hand and threw a perfect strike to the plate in the same motion to get the runner."

Bill Prior, the long drink of water who has kicked around PCL and WIL mounds in his professional career, is playing for kicks with Farmer Construction now and loving every minute of it.

The flames were flickering dangerously when Bill came on in the ninth inning of that weekend tournament at Courtenay. The bases were loaded and the tying run was bouncing up and down on third. But Bill hitched up his pants, evaded one in and when the batter tried a squeeze bunt, Bill made that play that Hodges was talking about.

You don't lose that professional stamp easily. Not when your name is Bill Prior and you have made a living at baseball.

Bruce Humber, after seeing Terry Tobacco run the quarter-mile and anchor lap for Victoria Y in the 440 relay in the weekend Vancouver Police Sports—
"By the time the Olympic trials come around, Terry should be running the quarter-mile down in the 46's. And on the basis of past Olympics, that should be good enough to qualify him for the Olympic final."

A week ago in the Island championships, Terry knocked off a mediocre 49.3 for the quarter and on Saturday he knocked it down to 48.2.

Terry and Mike Agostini, now Canadian 220-record holder, ran the anchor laps in the 440 relay. Terry took the stick with a slight lead over Mike but Agostini picked up a yard or two around the curve. When they hit the straightaway, Terry not only held Agostini off but actually picked up another yard on the man who shares the world 100-yard record.

SUMMER 'SPIEL

It's Busy, Busy For This Rink

You wouldn't get them to admit it, but the Frank Petterson rink from Victoria might just feel a little bit happier today if they lost a game in the third annual summer bonspiel at Victoria Curling Club.

Up to today, the Petterson quartet, composed of Frank and his wife and bonspiel chairman Dr. Kirby Moysiey and his wife, have been curling like crazy, and winning.

In the first two days of the 'spiel Monday and Tuesday, they curled and won five games. This puts them in the eighth of the "A" primary, and the 16s of the "B" primary.

In Tuesday's curling, they downed Burden of Victoria, 12-4, and Beresford of Vancouver, 15-2.

Otherwise, curling went through a full slate at VCC Tuesday, with play reaching the eighth of the "A" event, 16s of the "B" event, and opening games in both secondaries.

Tonight, the 'spiel will suspend temporarily at 8 to allow the curlers to attend en masse the inter-city Lacrosse League game between Victoria Shamrocks and New Westminster Salmonbellies. Tuesday's results:

"A" PRIMARY
Petterson (Vic) 10, Merrett (Dun) 6, James (Vic) 7, Hoffman (Dun) 6.

Arrows Get Gift Victory

Arrows, with the timely help of two unearned runs, vented their anger upon Chinese Students instead of the umpires Tuesday night at Central Park and won their third Victoria Senior A Men's Softball League game of the season, 3-2.

Bobby Lowe's error in the sixth inning gave Arrows a 3-0 lead over the Students, and two homers, a pinch-hit effort by Jimmy Johns in the bottom of the sixth, and another by Quinton Mar in the eighth couldn't overcome the deficit.

Earlier, George Brown, in centre field for Students, let in an unearned run for Arrows with an error. The winners scored their other run, a legitimate one, in the second.

Archie Sluggett, despite his two gopher balls, chucked six-hit ball for the win. Dave Price was the loser. Sluggett had two my side of the story

A continuing series
BY THE DUCHESS OF WINDSOR

While David was away, Esmond Harmsworth invited me to lunch with him. Esmond was chairman of the Newspaper Proprietors' Association and, as such, in co-operation with Lord Beaverbrook, had been instrumental in restraining the British Press' handling of the divorce suit.

During the early part of the meal we chatted aimlessly. Then suddenly the purpose of the lunch became clear. In a matter-of-fact way, Esmond said he knew that the King wanted to marry me and of the difficulties involved.

Then he asked whether any thought had been given to the idea of a morganatic marriage. His directness quite took my breath away, and I wasn't sure that I understood what he meant.

The term morganatic was one that I remembered from my history books—something romantic having to do mostly with the Hapsburgs. I asked him to tell me what was on his mind. He then explained that this form of marriage was not infrequent among foreign royalty; it was one whereby a king or a prince could contract a legal marriage with a woman outside the royal circle, with his wife, however, not sharing her husband's position and titles.

Esmond had obviously done a good deal of research about this curious institution. He cited chapter and verse at considerable length.

He was suggesting the idea in the thought that a morganatic marriage might be the only acceptable compromise solution for David and me, since there could be no question of my ever being queen.

"I realize, Wallis," he said, "that all this is not very flattering to you. But I am sure that you are one with us in desiring to keep the King on the throne." The whole idea was so astonishing and so filled with incalculable implications that I could not possibly express any opinion. And I frankly told him so.

He then urged that I at least pass on the idea to the King. Almost as an afterthought, he suggested that a suitable title for me might be that of the Duchess of Lancaster—an ancient subsidiary title adhering to the Sovereign.

COMPLETELY AT SEA

I was now completely at sea. Parting from Esmond I was sure of only one thing: that I knew less than ever of the marvellous workings of the British political mind.

Late on Thursday night, November 19, David returned to London from his tour of the coalfields. Aunt Bessie and I joined him the next evening at the Fort.

David looked exhausted; the tension of inner struggle was obviously eating into his soul, and I felt the appalling strain he was under could not be allowed to go on. Therefore, but with many misgivings, I brought up Esmond Harmsworth's proposal (for a morganatic marriage).

David's face showed his distaste. The custom of morganatic marriage, he said, had long since ceased to be acceptable in Britain, and the last example in his family, nearly a century before, had been lamentable.

"Whatever may be the outcome of our situation," he declared, "I can't see a morganatic marriage as right for you."

Needless to say, I shared his distaste and could foresee the humiliation that would inescapably adhere to such an ambiguous role.

Nevertheless, I now told him that if there was the slightest possibility that Esmond Harmsworth's proposal might ease the crisis and keep him on the throne, it was our duty to consider it, regardless of our own feelings.

"I'LL TRY ANYTHING"

Perhaps my putting the matter to him in this way, and at this time, was a mistake. He sighed wearily and said, "I'll try anything in the spot I'm in now."

No doubt it was all a romantic fantasy, but in any case David moved.

On his return to London he sent for Esmond. For reasons I never quite understood then, and even today still find inex-placable, David and Esmond decided to try it out on the cabinet.

The first step was an informal call by Esmond upon Mr. Baldwin to lay the idea before him. Esmond reported to David that the Prime Minister was interested, but wary about committing himself.

At this point I became alarmed. David was obviously allowing his better judgment to be swept aside by his impatience to break the deadlock. I reminded him that Lord Beaverbrook, one of his oldest and staunchest counselors, and Walter Monckton had each warned that the whole idea was, however well meant, a trap; he was putting his head on Mr. Baldwin's chopping block.

For the formal presentation of the morganatic proposal would give Mr. Baldwin the constitutional right to proffer the King advice, and the King would have to take it.

Once David was in the grip of an idea, wild horses couldn't hold him. He brushed aside my alarm, saying "I've got to do something." At the very least I'll get my head in a more comfortable position on the block."

New Plant Gets Wood Chip Load

First Shipment Arrives at Duncan Bay For $29 Million Kraft Pulp Mill

CAMPBELL RIVER — The first shipment of pulp chips produced by B.C. sawmills for the expanding Elk Falls Company pulp and paper mill of Crown Zellerbach Canada Limited arrived at the Duncan Bay plant today.

It was the forerunner of what will develop into the biggest single outlet in B.C. for chips produced from sawmill waste by small lumber operators in the province.

400 TONS DAILY

These chips will be the major source of supply for the kraft pulp mill under construction now as part of a $29,000,000 expansion program by the Elk Falls Company. The pulp mill, scheduled to be finished by Aug. 15, will require approximately 28,000 units of chips a month and will produce 400 tons of kraft pulp daily. This tonnage will be further increased to 500 tons daily within the year.

First barge load of chips came from L & K Lumber of North Vancouver. Crown Zellerbach (Canada) Limited now has more than 25 small individual chip suppliers under contract in B.C.

L & K Lumber have been manufacturing chips from sawmill waste for two years. Commenting on the contribution of chips to his company's over-all operating picture, Lawrence Lytle, manager, said: "We had to install a chipper to get complete utilization from the logs we purchase for lumber manufacturing. Sale of these wood chips is now a necessity to make our lumber business economically worthwhile."

Opening of the Elk Falls kraft mill will mark a distinct change in the B.C. chip market, which has developed into the "Cinderella" product of the small sawmills over the past 10 years.

Chips are manufactured from saw mill waste, which at one time was used as hog fuel or for firewood. There were more than 1,200,000 units of chips produced from this source in B.C. last year, the equivalent of about 480,000,000 board feet of timber.

Unloading operations at Elk Falls will run around-the-clock, seven days a week. Careful planning will be

Over-Expenditure On Road-Building Faces Esquimalt

Esquimalt general road repairs will run to an over-expenditure of $8,000 to $8,000 this year if work continues at the present rate, Coun. George Argyle, finance committee chairman, told Esquimalt council on Tuesday night.

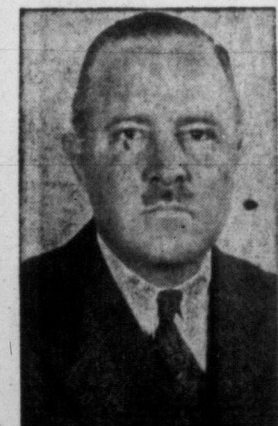

Reason for the jump in expenditures is because cost of certain projects in the Head Street area was underestimated, Reeve A. C. Wurtele said. "The general repairs program is not overextended."

Public works committee will investigate the situation and submit their findings at the next council meeting.

A public hearing will be called on a request by Ker & Stephenson Ltd., that property at 878 Esquimalt Road be rezoned to commercial. Municipal officials said they understand that a supermarket is planned.

TO HOSPITAL BOARD

Appointed Tuesday to Gorge Road Hospital Board as government representative was E. W. Griffith, 235 Denison. The appointment was made by the B.C. cabinet for a two-year term.

A. K. Jordan, whose appointment as General Sales Manager of Aluminum Company of Canada, Limited is announced by R. E. Powell, President of Alcan. Mr. Paul S. White, Vice-President and General Sales Manager has asked for an indefinite leave of absence due to the pressure of family business affairs and the Company has regrettably complied with his request.

Mr. A. K. Jordan is a veteran member of the Aluminum Limited group of Companies having joined Alcan in 1930. He returns to Alcan from Northern Aluminum Company, Limited — an associated company in the United Kingdom — where he served as Assistant General Sales Manager. During World War II, Mr. Jordan served with the Canadian Forces overseas, commanding the Governor General's Horse Guards in Italy and is the holder of the D.S.O. and E.D.

THIS COP SAID 'SORRY'

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Constable Henry Johnston was driving out of the police station yard in his cruiser Monday night when he realized the car pulling out ahead of him was his own. He'd left it there when he reported in.

Johnston gave chase and forced the car over to the curb. At the wheel sat his fuming wife.

"Well," he explained, "she never came and got the car like that before."

Canada Willing to Aid Russia Export Her Products Says Howe

OTTAWA (CP)—Trade Minister prices and terms of exports. Under Mr. Howe said he did not know what sales Russia had made. But he was sure Canadian wheat sales to that country will rise to the maximum "anyway." Russia was paying for the wheat in dollars.

He touched on the Communist trade picture as he clashed with CCF members on federal wheat-selling policy. The CCF maintained Canada should embark on a program such as the United States' so-called "giveaway" scheme to boost Canadian exports.

Both Mr. Howe and George McIvor, chairman of the Canadian wheat board, said such a scheme would lead to disaster for Canada.

Miners Call Strike

KITWE, Northern Rhodesia (Reuters)—Nearly 8,000 African miners struck Tuesday at the Mufulira copper mine here in protest over wage contracts. The African Mineworkers' Union complained that the management of copper mines are making workers sign monthly contracts, thus severing their association with the union.

But Russia was in a "peculiar position." A state organization fixed association with the union.

CHILDREN SMARTENED UP BY ATOMIC RADIATION?

WOLVERHAMPTON, England (Reuters)—A children's psychiatrist is putting hundreds of youngsters here through intelligence tests to check his theory that radiation from atomic and hydrogen bomb tests is making them brighter than their elder brothers and sisters were.

Dr. J. Ford Thomson began his investigation after education authorities here noted that children born here since the war showed surprising progress at their lessons.

Thomson, a consultant children's psychiatrist, told a press conference that he stumbled on his theory by accident when two "remarkably clever" schoolboys were sent to him for behavior trouble. He believes the mind of a growing child is stimulated by atomic radiation.

Chemainus Boy B.C. Champion Soap Box Driver

CHEMAINUS—Norman Morrison, 14, defeated 142 other entries Dominion Day at Mission City to become British Columbia's soap box derby champion for 1956.

The victory in the provincial coasting classic entitles him to compete in the world championship at Akron, Ohio, Aug. 12, for a first prize of a $5,000 university scholarship.

A Grade 9 student at Chemainus Junior High School, he has been racing for three years. He built a new car last year to compete in the Mission classic, and drove it to fourth place. He rebuilt the same car this year, having outgrown the original body.

Norman's last appearance in Victoria was in the soap box derby here on Labor Day of 1954. He won the right to compete at Mission by defeating all comers at the Empire Day derby held this year in Nanaimo.

In addition to building and driving soap box coasters he plays left-field for his local

Three Hurt Near Duncan In Two Accidents Tuesday

DUNCAN (CP)—Three men, two from Shawnigan and the other from Sidney, were injured in accidents near here Tuesday.

RCMP said Lloyd Edgson of Shawnigan suffered a broken right leg between the knee and the hip when struck by culverts he was unloading from a flatcar.

His helper, Lorne Nikirk of Sidney was pinned beneath the 20-foot steel pipes but escaped with bruises.

In the other accident, Melvin Coulter, 28, also of Shawnigan, was hit by a flying chunk of log and suffered two broken ribs.

Two hundred telephones went dead here Tuesday when workmen excavating to remove a broken water pipe cut through a 100-pair cable.

The phones went out at 11 a.m. and repairs were due to be completed later the same day. Emergency connections were made to a doctors' clinic.

Government Starts Gathering Data on Dairy Feed Shortage

The provincial agriculture department started Tuesday gathering data from Vancouver Island and Fraser Valley dairy farmers on the critical hay shortage.

Agriculture Minister Kiernan said the department has prepared forms to be filled out by farmers who must buy hay and other forage above normal purchases to maintain their milking herds next winter and who feel it is impossible to do so on their own resources.

Mr. Kiernan said the government was not making any commitment "expressed or implied."

"The information appears necessary, however, so that the situation can be examined in its proper perspective," he said.

A supply of the forms has been forwarded to reach rural municipal offices in the Fraser Valley and on Vancouver Island.

Additional forms are available at the offices of government agents and district agriculturists on the Island.

Big Bingo, Baseball In Ladysmith's Fete

LADYSMITH—Local baseball clubs were the losers in games played here in connection with Dominion Day celebrations on Monday.

Ladysmith Little League all-stars were defeated 10-3 by a Parkville all-star team, and the Rotary team of Victoria's Pony League defeated a Ladysmith team 14-2.

A parade, children's sports, and bingo were feature attractions of the day, with Miss Lois Pickering, a nurse at Ladysmith General Hospital, winning the major bingo prize of $500.

Susan King, elected by popular vote, reigned over the celebration as queen. Her attendants were Judy Roy, Mount Brenton School; Christine Regalant, St. Mary's; Linda Gilson, Diamond School, and Susan Scofield, North Oyster School.

Damages Set In Jet Crash On Nuns' Home

OTTAWA — The first settlement of a damages action arising out of the May 15 crash of a CF-100 into a Grey Nuns retreat near Ottawa has been reached. It was learned Wednesday from government sources.

Total damage settlements for the deaths may exceed half a million dollars.

The Royal Canadian Air Force has settled with the heirs of Miss Aline Lapointe, a cleaning woman employed at the Roman Catholic retreat, who was killed when the 17-ton interceptor aircraft plunged into the building, demolishing the structure.

Amount of the settlement was not disclosed because federal authorities are negotiating with relatives of others killed in the tragedy which claimed 15 lives.

$200 Cash Prize For Cover Design

An open competition to design the cover for the B.C. Centennial Book in 1958 was announced today.

L. J. Wallace, provincial chairman of the B.C. Centennial Committee, said a prize of $200 has been donated.

All artists in the province may enter, whether or not they are affiliated with any organized group.

"Unknowns will have the same opportunity as artists of established reputation, and every entry will receive the same consideration," Mr. Wallace said.

Judges will be Fred W. Ames, principal of the Vancouver

School of Art; William E. Ellis, president of the Community Arts Council; and Mr. Wallace.

More than 100,000 copies of the 208-page book will be distributed throughout the world during the province's 100th birthday celebrations.

It will trace all phases of B.C.'s history from 1858 to 1958, including industrial development and daily living.

The cover design, to be reproduced in full color, should illustrate this theme, Mr. Wallace said.

The book will be produced by Sunprinting, which is also donating the $200 cover prize.

HE GOT OUT—AT WRONG TIME

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Edward M. Freitas, 43, and his wife, Dolores, 29, started arguing in their car.

Mrs. Freitas, who was driving, said she wanted a divorce. Then, she told deputy sheriff Raymond F. Sousa:

"That's all right with me," snapped Freitas. "I'm getting out right now."

He did, too. The car was doing 35 miles an hour.

Sheriff's officers found Freitas unconscious by the road. He was taken to hospital with a fractured elbow and head and back injuries.

South Africa Asks Defence Pact To Prevent Soviet Encroachment

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Johannes Strijdom of South Africa Tuesday proposed a new defence alliance of Commonwealth and European colonial powers that rule south of the Sahara desert. He said the idea was to stop any Soviet thrusts into Africa.

Strijdom made his proposal in defence talks at the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference. The European colonial powers that would be included in the alliance are France, Belgium and Portugal.

The Commonwealth members would be South Africa, Britain and the central African federation, composed of northern and southern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

STAY AWAY

Two Commonwealth prime ministers known for their neutralist stand in the cold war and for their strongly anti-colonial views did not attend Tuesday's session. They are Jawaharlal Nehru of India and Solomon Bandaranaike of Ceylon.

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

We are having a bit of calendar trouble at our house, and perhaps you could help us with some timely advice.

The calendar trouble we are having is not our usual calendar trouble, such as not understanding why May 24 falls on May 21 and July 1 falls on July 2.

No, the calendar trouble we are having now is, which are the last two weeks in July?

Possibly you are mildly curious as to why we wish to know which are the last two weeks in July. To the average person, no doubt, the last two weeks in July are of supreme importance, and could fall on Jan. 1, for all he cared.

But in our house, the last two weeks of July are of the essence. My Favorite Wife and I have been looking forward to the last two weeks in July for 10, these many moons, because those are the weeks we chose for our holidays.

A long, long, time ago, MFW and I decided we'd like to have our summer vacation during the last two weeks in July, and we requested from our respective employers the privilege of so doing.

And our respective employers, bless their big fat hearts, said, why, sure, the last two weeks in July will be a splendid time to not have you around, cluttering up the place.

Which led up to the calendar trouble we are having in our house.

We do not know which are the last two weeks in July.

My theory is, the last two weeks start July 15 and end July 29.

But My Favorite Wife says this can't be so, because July does not end until July 31, so how can the last two weeks in July end on July 29?

HER theory is, the last two weeks in July start July 22 and end August 5.

But I say this can't be so, because July ends on July 31, so how can the last two weeks in July end on August 5?

This is why I am appealing for help. MFW and I would like to spend our holidays during the same last two weeks in July, so which are they? The last two weeks, that is.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A card of appreciation from visitors from Los Angeles was received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce today.

The card complimented the chamber and city on its "yellow line" tours.

"We would have been lost without it," the visitors wrote.

Wilfred Hollinger, 395 John Street, was found not guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today of assaulting and causing bodily harm to Mary Lushaw on June 16.

Mrs. Lushaw claimed that Hollinger, during a scuffle with her husband at the corner of Government and Pandora, struck her, broke two of her fingers and bruised her eye.

Magistrate Hall said he felt that Mrs. Lushaw broke her fingers when she grabbed Hollinger by the back of his neck.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, a World's Tallest Totem shareholder, has written John R. Bennett, 374 Gorge Road West, thanking him for subscribing on his behalf.

Mr. St. Laurent wrote: "I wish to thank you for your thoughtfulness in subscribing a share in my name. I am happy to have for display a share certificate in this project which proposes to perpetuate the ancient art of our Canadian Indians."

Winners of the monthly master-point competition of the Victoria Duplicate Bridge Club Tuesday met follow:

North-South: Joe Lukas and Bill Browne-Cave; Mr. and Mrs. C. Beale; Elizabeth Warren and Leslie Stewart; Otto Leesment and Frank Artlett.

East-West: Ann Kocutyn and Madge Meachem; Laura Tingley and Isabel Kelly; Ethel Cleworth and Jack Goldie; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Duprau.

Vancouver Island Poultry Producers' Association will hold a membership meeting in the Canadian Legion Hall, Nanaimo, next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

A film and talk on the "Navy Goes North" will be presented Thursday at noon to the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel by Lieut.-Cmdr. Pettit.

In the month just ended, the publicity bureau here distributed nearly 11,000 pieces of mail, answered "call in" requests by 7,864 persons, and answered 1,239 telephone requests for tourist information.

The bureau is open Sundays and holidays during the busy season.

Field representative of the American Automobile Association, Ralph E. Danford, is in Victoria this week conferring with officials of the Victoria Automobile Club. Business discussed is of a general nature.

The provincial cabinet has given blanket authorization to municipal councils throughout B.C. to grant financial aid to local committees set up to organize Centennial celebrations in 1958.

Approval for all city, district and village councils was granted in an order-in-council approved Tuesday.

Chairman of the advance gifts committee Victoria Community Chest is E. W. Arnott, B.C. Electric Company vice-president. It was announced Tuesday. The drive starts Oct. 1.

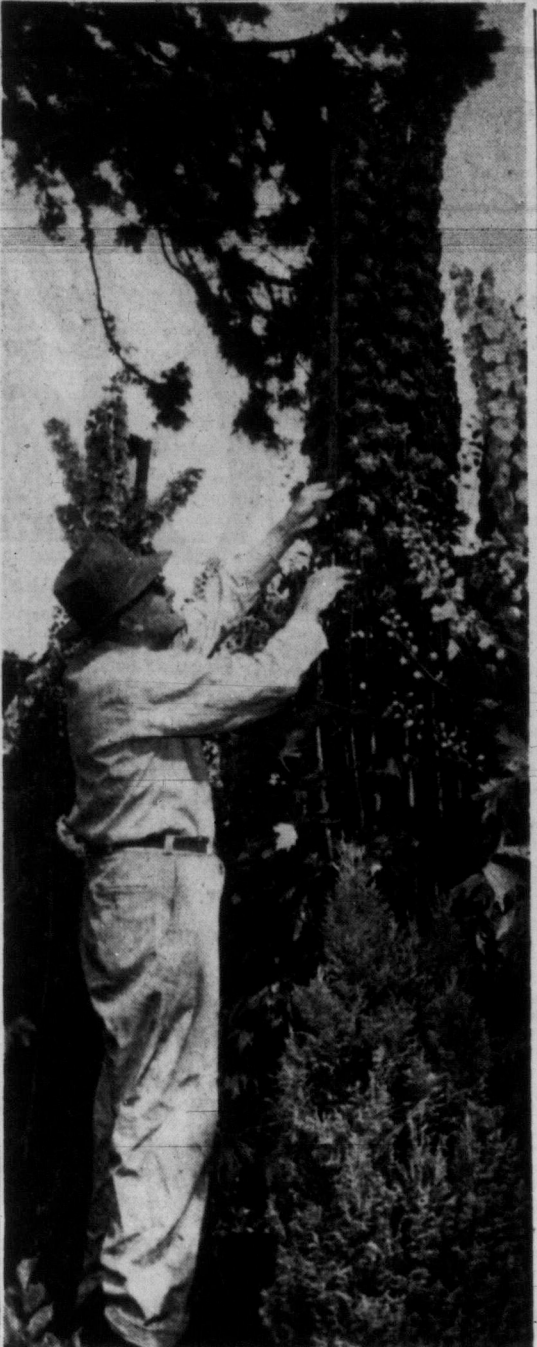

Gerry K. Sammon, executive vice-president of the DVA Employees' National Association, is among four city delegates to the 21st Civil Service Federation of Canada convention in Ottawa, which starts Monday.

Others are John E. Carey, provincial vice-president, National Defence Employees' Association; James Bryant, NDEA national vice-president, and Jim Randall, president, Vancouver Island branch.

Esquimalt-Saanich CCF Association will hold a basket picnic at Mount Douglas Park at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 14.

Sports and games are planned and a campfire sing-song. Members and friends from Victoria-Oak Bay, Cowichan-Newcastle and Nanaimo are invited.

RARE DELPHINIUMS 10 FEET HIGH

Rare and fair Pacific giant hybrid delphiniums, a riot of whites, blues, purples and pinks, grow to height of more than 10 feet in crescent delphinium garden of Theodore Diminyatz, 617 St. Charles, shown above. Phenomenal growth was achieved in third year of perennials. Sightseeing buses stop at residence to give visitors a chance to see dozens of bushes, hundreds of stalks, unnumbered blooms. No BCE Decision Yet On New Wage Rates

B.C. Electric officials said today it may be a week before decision is reached to accept or reject a conciliation board recommendation for a 28½-cent wage boost for 1,400 drivers and mechanics here and on the mainland.

E. W. Arnott, vice-president in charge of Vancouver Island operations, would make no comment on speculation that a wage boost would be speedily reflected in an increase in transit fares.

The decision would have to await acceptance of the award, a company official said.

A conciliation board majority report, approved by officials of the Street Railwaymen's Union, recommended increases totalling 28½ cents an hour spread over a two-year period.

The report recommended the wage increase be given in three stages, with the first being retroactive to June 1.

It was signed by labor nominee, Vancouver Alderman Halford D. Wilson and board chairman Leslie F. Parsons. Company nominee C. G. Robson submitted a minority report.

If the union rejects the award, the union then may request a government-supervised strike vote.

Former Liberal MLA Gordon Gibson charged today the "whole cream" of Vancouver Island timber had been given to forest management licences.

Continuing his final argument before the Sloan Forestry Commission, Mr. Gibson said only the poorest timber had gone into public working circles for the small logger.

One of the reasons, he said, was that the small operators did not have the funds to make representations to the government.

PUSHED TO WALL
"Under the forest management licence system, small loggers are pushed to the wall and survive only as hired labor and sharecroppers," said Mr. Gibson, a retired lumberman.

Mr. Gibson said there is a need to return to free enterprise and open competition.

"The allocation of our resources to a privileged few doesn't guarantee prosperity and security for the people," he said.

Folk Society Names Livesey President
Ernest E. Livesey has been re-elected president of the Canadian Folk Society, Victoria Branch.

Vice-president is Alex Walker and secretary J. G. Chope.

Other officers are Mrs. C. E. Doucet, membership chairman; E. J. Costain, publicity and public relations; Mrs. E. J. Costain, festival program chairman; Harold Evans, historian, and executive members, Mrs. F. Dymont, Mrs. N. Ellison, E. Kerner, Mrs. E. H. MacMillan, Mrs. A. H. Plows, Major A. H. Plows, E. Protheroe and B. C. Solheim.

In his annual report Mr. Livesey recommended that the annual folk festival be held in the fall, to avoid competition with other festivals and celebrations usually held in the spring.

Classrooms Indicate Progress—Williston

The key to B.C.'s progress is in the classroom, Education Minister R. G. Williston told 1,500 teachers at opening ceremonies of the Summer School of Education at Lansdowne Junior High School this morning.

Speaking in his dual role as Lands and Forest Minister and Education Minister, Mr. Williston said "Industry and education must work together to build B.C.'s future. We need people with specific skills and ability as well as character."

Summer School director Robert T. Wallace introduced past directors in the school's 43-year history, Dr. H. G. Campbell, Dr. C. B. Conway and Dr. W. H. Johnson.

A camera, gift of the summer school, was presented to immediate past director, Dr. Johnson.

The teachers were welcomed also by Willard Ireland, vice-chairman of the Victoria College Council, and Humphrey Golby, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board.

Following the ceremony, classes got under way. Eighty courses are offered for the five-week session, ending Aug. 7.

$48,748,888 Road Contracts Let So Far

Half of Road Budget Spent Says Gagliardi

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi revealed today he has let contracts totalling $48,748,888 out of this year's highway budget.

He disclosed that most of the work was put out to contract in the period since the beginning of the fiscal year April 1.

"Of the total, about 10 per cent is continuing work committed last year," he said. "The balance is all new work."

Mr. Gagliardi said the total will rise to about $52,000,000 when Dawson Wade & Company is awarded a $4,000,000 contract for two sections of the Trans-Canada Highway in the Fraser Canyon.

"Only three months of the fiscal year have gone by and I have already committed more than half of my $50,604,000 budget," he stated.

The minister gave this breakdown of how the money will be spent:

Trans-Canada Highway $13,670,100; general highways (new and reconstruction) $23,785,100; bridges and ferry landings $4,856,000; paving $6,437,680.

Mr. Gagliardi could not say how much of the work would be completed this year—that is by March 31, end of the current fiscal year.

Gorge Canal Revived For Debate Tonight

General Improvement Plans To Be Submitted to Capital Commission

Gorge improvement plans for submission to the Capital Improvement District Commission will be drawn up at a meeting of the Gorge Waterway Improvement Committee tonight at City Hall.

Chairman, city Alderman Geoffrey Edgelow, said the meeting will be open to the public. It will be held in council chambers at 8 p.m.

The provincial group is slated to meet Thursday.

Ald. Edgelow said discussions would centre on an earlier proposal for a canal which could be cut through to the Gorge from Esquimalt Harbor.

He said earlier estimates of the canal costing $750,000 might now be revised downward.

The canal would rid Portage Inlet of any possibility of stagnation.

Vancouver consulting engineer G. G. Buchanan has inspected the Gorge in recent days and his report will be presented at the meeting.

Victoria Kinsmen were to meet with Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee earlier today and an announcement whether or not the club will participate in Gorge development was expected.

Kinsmen were asked to undertake beach improvement and erection of beach houses and washrooms at the old public swimming area below Tillicum bridge. Further up the Gorge, residents have formed a committee and commenced beach clearing and installation of floats.

Health board has recently given clearance to the areas now being developed. Swimming is being enjoyed for the first time with approval of health authorities since 1938.

'COULDN'T BELIEVE IT'

Symphony's Soloist Thrilled To Be Here

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

A young lady who "couldn't believe it was true" when she received the telegram inviting her to appear as soloist at the famed Butchart Gardens Victoria Symphony Orchestra concert, arrived here Tuesday.

Spent an enchanted afternoon in the gardens and a four-hour stint of rehearsal with the orchestra in the evening.

This morning she was relaxed and serene—at least outwardly. None of the volatile excitement traditionally associated with artists and French Canadian mademoiselles was apparent.

But there was a glow of happiness in her dark eyes and her rich, warm speaking voice vibrated with the thrill of her first long journey west and the probability of singing, Thursday night, to one of the largest symphony audiences in the history of Canadian music.

As grand award winner of this year's Singing Stars of Tomorrow radio broadcast, Miss Lavergne has been singing operatic works almost exclusively.

Her real love, however, is lieder, and "just to relieve the monotony" she has been preparing a recital of lieder and Bach which she plans to give in Montreal later this season.

VIENNA-BOUND
Then in the fall, the earnest young singer will go to Vienna, there to make a special study of lieder for the next couple of years.

Miss Lavergne started serious study five years ago at the age of 19 at a sisters of St. Anne convent at Lachine, Que.

Since that time she has won a scholarship for piano and one for singing; she was the 1953 winner of "Opportunity Knocks" and won the Archambault prize in 1954.

She has sung with the Opera Guild of Montreal and in the Opera Festival at Toronto, and recently was soloist for the Toronto Symphony prom concert.

At home, she is housekeeper for her father and two brothers. She likes cooking but has few interests that can compete with her devotion to her music.

With the orchestra, which Dr. Mazzoleni recently called second only to the Toronto and CBC Symphonies, Miss Lavergne will sing arias from "Madame Butterfly," "La Bohème" and Verdi's "Forza del Destino," "Exultate Jubilate" by Mozart, her most highly acclaimed Toronto Prom number, will also be on the program.

For the orchestral part of the program, Hans Gruber has chosen "Gaitie Parisienne," ballet music from "Swan Lake," "The Moldau" by Smetana and Elgar's march, "Pomp and Circumstance."

CHECK ASKED ON SPEEDBOATS
Saanich council at its next meeting will consider a by-law which would prohibit the use of outboard motors with more than 5½ horsepower on Prospect Lake.

Residents of Prospect Lake have requested passage of the by-law to curb excessive speeding on the four-mile-long lake.

The by-law also calls for the installation of mufflers on outboard motors.

ASK The TIMES
Q.—The Dallas seawall was damaged during a storm. What was that?—G.L.

A.—The storm occurred Nov. 2, 1948. Gusts reached as high as 74 miles an hour. Repairs were started early in 1949.

Q.—This year my pickled onions were soft. Is there any substance that can now be used to make them crisp?—Mrs. J.D.

A.—No. That is the information given this column by a woman with long experience in home economics. She states alum is used to produce that result, but it must be applied during the process. Once the pickling has been completed it is too late to use alum.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask The Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Draws Budgeted Shoppers

By PENNY SAVER

Now is the ideal time to be buying summer cottons and sports outfits, for there are wonderful sales being held downtown. Waist-length sun halters, to bare and help brown shoulders, are boned, and attractively styled strapless, with halter straps, with stitching or with other top fashion details to make them comfortable to wear with shorts and pedal pushers or with skirts for informal afternoons and evenings. Of washable cotton, they're made by a well-known company. Formerly priced at $2.95, $3.95 and $4.95, they are now selling at just two-thirds of those prices.

You can buy red, white, yellow-gold, vivid blue or grey. Shorts, pedal pushers, capris, shirts and T-shirts are all selling at one-third off.

In another store, I found polished cotton and cotton-silk mixture two-piece summer outfits to wear everywhere this summer. These are selling at half price. They were $16.95, and are now $8.47. Full skirts with unpressed pleats are topped with sun-time blouses that are sleeveless, and have either fly-away wing collars or flattering wide euffed necklines that make these outfits suitable for early evening wear, too. Checks, plaids, stripes and lovely floral prints are available in this popular style.

I had a preview peek at some wonderful buys in wool tweeds and worsted skirts that will be going on sale Thursday. Many feature all-leather belts in classic and novelty styles. There are slim and gracefully gored styles and pockets, button interest or completely plain to be teamed with favorite blouses and sweaters. These are the types of skirts that can be worn anytime of year and look smart. Regularly priced from $14.95 to $17.95, these are a real buy at $8.88.

Fancy sheer nylon gloves are on sale for $1 in one of Victoria's stores. Shirred and ruffled cuffs, embroidered, dotted, or be-jewelled backs are featured in these easily washed, and quickly dried gloves.

Pink, navy, olive, tan, powder blue, yellow, white and red are shown in short, short, or medium lengths to go with suits or dresses.

Call me at 23131 and I'll tell you where I saw the items mentioned in today's column.

Home-Made Milk Shakes
Are Cooling, Nutritious

You'll not find your family shying away from drinking their necessary-for-health daily quota of milk when you combine fully-flavored B.C. milk with easy-to-make cocoa or coffee syrup to make tempting beverages, or with ice cream to make a "shake." These "frothy coolers" quench thirst and revive summer-faded energy.

Cocoa Milk Shake—Four cups chilled milk, ½ cup cocoa syrup, 4 tablespoons malt (optional). Beat mixture together thoroughly with beater or in blender.

To make cocoa syrup—Combine 1 cup granulated sugar, ½ cup cocoa in saucepan. Stir in ½ cup cold water. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Stir and boil 2 minutes. Cool. Refrigerate.

Mocha Milk Shake—1½ cups strong coffee, 1½ cups milk, 4 tablespoons cocoa syrup, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 pint vanilla or chocolate ice cream. Combine coffee, milk, cocoa syrup and sugar. Beat until frothy. Pour into chilled glasses. Add scoop of ice cream to each glass. Makes 4 servings.

Frothy Coffee Milk—One glass chilled milk, 3 tablespoons coffee syrup. Stir syrup into milk until well mixed.

To make coffee syrup—Beat together 1 cup granulated sugar, ½ cup cocoa, ½ teaspoon salt and 1½ cups hot coffee. Simmer over low heat 5 minutes. Cool. Refrigerate.

NEW
safely stops perspiration
1 to 3 days

Clinical tests prove that ARRID, now with Perstop*, is 1½ times as effective as other leading deodorants. Arrid's antiseptic protection keeps underarms dry and odourless.

1. Safely stops perspiration and odour.
2. Will not irritate normal skin.
3. Protects clothes from stains and clinging odours.
4. Soft, gentle vanishing cream. Never dries out.
5. Easy to use! Rub Arrid in, rub perspiration and odour out.

More Canadians use Arrid than any other deodorant.

Wearing a pale yellow bridal gown of taffeta, lace and net, Miss Frances Mildred Hartshorne, daughter of Mrs. M. Hartshorne, Laurel road, Sidney, and Mr. R. Hartshorne, Clayton road, Sidney, entered St. John's United Church, Deep Cove, to exchange wedding vows with Gerald Grant Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sheppard, North Battleford, Sask.

Rev. Buckingham officiated at the ceremony in a setting of delphiniums, roses and lilies. Mrs. N. Hadley was soloist, and sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She completed her bridal ensemble with a waistlength veil, pearl jewelry and a bridal bouquet of white carnations, heather and yellow rosebuds to complement her gown.

Attendants were the bride's sisters, Miss Janet Hartshorne, in a flowing gown of pale blue tulle and a bouquet of summer flowers, and Miss Ruby Hartshorne in a pale green gown of tulle and a nosegay of rosebuds.

Best man was James Ronald Phillips, and ushers were Ken Mollet and the bride's brothers, George Hartshorne and Frank Hartshorne.

A four-tier wedding cake decorated by Mrs. S. Lord centred the bride's table at the reception party which followed in St. John's Church hall. A buffet luncheon was served. W. Lamson proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling, the bride wore a forest green suit with white poodle cloth shortie coat and white accessories.

Following a honeymoon trip to Seattle, the newlyweds will make their home at 1032 Oliphant street.

Out-of-town guests at the recent wedding of Miss Arlene Phyllis Hallberg to Mr. Richard Frederick Cameron were Mr. and Mrs. F. Cameron, Prince Rupert, B.C., and Mrs. H. Trudell, Yellow Point, Vancouver Island.

Summer Floral Setting For Wedding Ceremony

Coral gladioli, blue iris and white stocks were arranged in tall standard baskets in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church for the recent wedding of Arlene Phyllis Hallberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hallberg, 3042 Orillia Street, and Richard Frederick Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Cameron, 223 Hampton Road.

Dr. J. L. W. McLean conducted the service and the bride's father gave her in marriage. Traditional wedding music was played by organist, C. C. Warren.

The bride was charming in her full-length gown of French lace and nylon tulle. The bouffant skirt featured layers of the tulle over taffeta and the Empire bodice was topped by a lace jacket. A motif of sequins was embroidered on the bodice and was complemented by the same design on the bride's illusion net veil, which was appliqued with lace and held by a cap of nylon tulle. She wore a rhinestone necklace and earrings set, gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of pink roses and white carnations in cascading design.

Maid of honor was Miss Arlene Cameron, sister of the groom, and bridesmaids were Miss Doreen Coles and Miss Leslie Duplain. All three were Opened Vancouver Garden Party

His Honor, Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Frank Mackenzie Ross opened the Shaughnessy Hospital garden party today in Vancouver. The party was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the hospital.

A Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm MacDuff, 469 Grafton street, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, Tuesday. The couple was married in Greenock, Scotland, in 1906, by Rev. J. Walker-Muir. They came to Vancouver, B.C., in 1910 and in 1919 moved to Esquimalt, where they have lived since. Mr. MacDuff was well known in the shipbuilding industry until his retirement last year. The couple has two daughters, Mrs. Arnold Parkinson and Mrs. Norman Patterson, both of Esquimalt. They also have three grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. MacDuff celebrated their anniversary quietly at the home of Mrs. Patterson in Esquimalt.

Travelling East

Mr. E. E. Pollard, principal of Sooke Elementary School, left Sunday by plane for Montreal. Flying with him was his mother, Mrs. M. Pollard of Victoria, who plans to visit relatives in Montreal and Quebec. Mr. Pollard will travel in eastern Canada and hopes to attend some Stratford Festival productions.

In Honor of the Bride

Mrs. S. T. Morrow, Old Charming Inn, Beach Drive, entertained recently to honor her godchild, Miss Diane Roskelley, a bride-elect. Gifts were arranged in a decorated bandbox topped by a tiny bride under a bower of red roses. A corsage of sweetheart roses was presented to the bride-elect. Tea was served from a table covered with an heirloom cloth and centred with a crystal vase of white asters and blue delphiniums. Mrs. W. R. Roskelley and Mrs. T. C. Johns, who also received corsages, presided at the tea table. Guests were Mrs. W. E. Roskelley, Mrs. F. C. Jeffrey, Mrs. A. Evans, Mrs. G. Sullivan, Mrs. R. Johns, Mrs. D. Kinsey, Mrs. G. Cox, Mrs. T. A. Johns, Mrs. L. Jackson, Mrs. R. A. Heater, Mrs. L. Keeler, Mrs. M. Sands, Mrs. L. Sands, Mrs. R. Futcher, Mrs. D. Hobbs, Mrs. D. Dakin, Mrs. A. Spragg, Mrs. S. Slack, Misses N. Young Couple Wed By Minister Who Married Bride's Parents

Miss Lorraine Louise Sandahl and Mr. Ernest Bryce West, who were married recently in a ceremony in St. Aidan's United Church repeated their vows before Rev. J. Lyn Clertue, who had also heard the vows of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sandahl, of 567 Walter avenue.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gown in a floor-length dress of nylon net over taffeta with a bodice of lace dotted with rhinestones. A lace peplum trimmed with rhinestones extended to a graceful curve in the back. She topped her gown with a tiny lace jacket with lily-point sleeves. Her veil, held by a coronet of seed pearls and rhinestones, misted from her dark hair to fingertip length. Her jewelry was a diamond tie, woolsens, superfluities, candy, home cooking, ice cream and fruits and vegetables. There will be pony rides for the children and bingo will be played. The HMCS Naden band will be in attendance. Tea will be served in the new Harmony dining room of the hospital.

Reports given at the meeting included: Sewing, Mrs. H. G. Pin-Y-neckline at back. She wore a horn; hospital dressing, Mrs. R. O. Bell; purchasing, Mrs. J. Hough, who reported on furnishings the auxiliary have supplied for the new sunroom for first floor north ward. Members viewed the room following the meeting.

gowns trimmed with pearls. They wore taffeta jackets, matching headresses, and carried colonial bouquets of pink and white carnations.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. West, 916 Russell street, had as his best man, James Sutton, while Harvey Bragg and Ray Kellett ushered guests to pews marked with tiny colonial bouquets of pink, white and blue flowers.

Baskets of blue and pink delphiniums and white gladioli were used in the church. Mrs. Ross Sturgeon, soloist, sang "O Promise Me", accompanied by organist, Miss Margaret Nason, cousin of the bride, wore a waltz-length dress of rose taffeta styled on princess lines with bow trim at waistline and at point of V-neckline at back. She wore a colonial bouquet of blue delphiniums and white carnations. Bridesmaids, Miss Louise Heal and Miss Gertrude Knutson of New Westminster wore powder blue nylon tulle over taffeta waltz-length gladioli decorated the bride's table at the reception held in McEwen's Tartan Room. A three-tier wedding cake in a mist of pink tulle was decorated with pale pink roses and topped with a bride and groom under silver bells. W. S. Nason, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to her future happiness.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip to the interior of B.C. and to the Okanagan, the bride wore a blue flecked wool suit with powder blue shortie coat, white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

HANDLING PLANS FOR GARDEN PARTY

The Women's Parish Guild annual garden party will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Wootton, 1255 Victoria Avenue, Saturday. Mrs. Brian Whitlow will open the affair at 2.30 p.m. Fish pond, and ice cream for the children will be two of the features of the afternoon event, and the Costain dancers will entertain guests. In charge of tickets is, left, Mrs. R. T. Mackay; ice cream, Mrs. P. R. Brown; linen stall, Mrs. W. K. Willis, and tea, Mrs. J. Ogston.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Creelman Wed in St. John's Church

While organist Frederick Chubb played traditional wedding music, Miss Vera Marie Stanley, on the arm of her father, entered St. John's Anglican Church to become the bride of Eugene Langille Creelman.

Canon George Biddle officiated at the afternoon ceremony which united in marriage the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Stanley, 1145 Faithful street, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Creelman, Mission City.

Standards of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and carnations were placed on the altar for the ceremony. Soloist Miss Dianne Clifford sang "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride chose a white floor-length gown of lace and tulle, fashioned with a lace bodice, long, lily-point sleeves and a skirt of tiered lace. Her finger-tip veil of tulle was held to a band of opalescent sequins and pearls. She wore pearl stud earrings and carried a bridal bouquet of mauve gladioli centred with white delphiniums.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Elmar Brynjoltsen, wore a mauve organza over mauve taffeta gown in princess style, and flower girl, Miss Lynn Stanley, niece of the bride, wore an identically styled gown. They wore tiara headresses of matching material, and carried bouquets of white gladioli centred with mauve delphiniums.

Best man was Lester Creelman, brother of the groom, and ushers were Arthur Barker and Jack Catherwood, both of Vancouver.

White and mauve, the color scheme of the bridal entourage, was repeated in the decoration long, lily-point sleeves and a reception in the Olde England Inn where white and mauve gladioli were placed, flanking the wedding cake.

Alfred Purcell of Vancouver proposed the toast to the bride. For travelling, the bride wore a blue dress with navy duster coat, navy accessories and a red rosebud corsage.

Following a honeymoon trip into the interior of B.C., Mr. and Mrs. Creelman will live at 5658 Dalhousie Road, Vancouver.

Separated Yolk

LAMPAN, Sask. (CP)—For those who have trouble separating the yolk and white of an egg, Mrs. Andrew Haselhan's hens have brought out a new model. The egg was shaped like an hour glass with the yolk in one end and the white in an other. A simple snap of the scissors separated the two.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

If You Lead Lonely Life, Take Steps to Correct It

Even though life is a wonderful privilege there are so many unhappy people in the world! Many folks have a very hard time and often real loneliness is masked by success and good luck.

We do not always know where loneliness lies. Sometimes we find it under the gayest exterior. More often we can spot it without difficulty. Everyone has disappointments and frustrations, but days should not drag along. They should sing. Life should not be lived in an atmosphere of chronic irritation or depression even if we do have our hard times.

If you find yourself lonely sit down and try to discover the reason or reasons. You can search these out and usually will find that your unhappy state is at least partly your own fault.

Check yourself on these points. Have you been lazy about following up gestures of friendship which others have made? Have you failed to make any of the first gestures yourself? If so, why? Don't you like people? I'll bet you do! Your failure is more likely due to one or more of the following reasons:

1. False pride. Lack of money leads many folks into loneliness. Perhaps since you cannot entertain as some others can, you do nothing at all. Others extend courtesies to you because they like you for yourself, and you can be especially sure of this if you do not have money.

Perhaps you fail to show your appreciation. Do not wait until the house is just right or you can save enough money to do the job up in a big way. Entertain in your own way and as you can afford to without strain. You can be sure that warmth and appreciation and gaiety and friendship are just as acceptable with a cup of tea and a few cookies as with a seven course dinner.

2. Timidity or self-consciousness. Why are you self-conscious? This is often due to physical defects. If you are conscious of self because of poor grooming, overweight, complexion trouble or wispy hair, get busy and overcome these. You can.

Maybe you are self-conscious because you feel that you have not had the advantages of education others have had. Some of the best educated folks I have known have been self-educated to a large degree.

It is not too late. Take up the world of books, observe, listen. Take advantage of free concerts and art exhibits and the public library. These will open up vistas for you.

Be friendly. Do not be afraid to smile and to speak to those with whom you are thrown. For get yourself and wave at the world and it surely will wave back at you.

Above all, remember that you are not the only lonely person in the world. There are lonely people at desks near you, across the street from you, in your church, all about you! Do not procrastinate any longer.

If you would like my free leaflet "How to Overcome Loneliness and Self-Consciousness," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 59. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

In Honor of the Bride

Little Miss Cathy Glover, dressed as a bride, presented shower gifts from a decorated wheelbarrow to bride-elect, Miss Nancy Anders, when she was honored at a party given by Mrs. E. H. Glover and Mrs. R. Callow at the home of the latter, 193 Obed avenue. A miniature bride doll centred the refreshment table. Miss Anders was presented with a corsage of red roses, and her mother, Mrs. W. B. Anders, and mother of the groom-elect, Mrs. J. H. Callow Sr., received corsages of yellow chrysanthemums. Guests included Mrs. A. de Goutiere, Mrs. J. Callow, Mrs. W. C. N. Smith, Mrs. E. Swift, Mrs. F. Birt, Mrs. E. Champion, Mrs. G. Gilman, Mrs. J. Moore, Mrs. J. Viggers, Mrs. E. Viggers, Mrs. V. Fun Quickly Turned to Danger If Caution, Competence Goes Foolishness, incompetence and thoughtlessness in a small boat endanger not only the occupants but the people who must rescue them, according to veteran boatmen.

"No one should take a boat out when weather conditions aren't right," said Duke and Betty Scott when interviewed at their Oak Bay boathouse. "In an emergency, yes—any boatman will go to help another—but it's not fair to create an emergency that will endanger someone else."

Theme of the Scotts' argument was that boating can be the heat of fun if simple rules are observed, but that danger awaits the showoff, the careless, and the stupid.

"There is no glory in trying to play the hero in a fight with the sea," Mrs. Scott said. "There is too much chance of losing."

NEVER OVERLOAD

Listing some of the simple rules, they said small boats should never be overloaded or overpowered.

"Now that the trailer ramp has been built beside the boathouse we see all types taking off for an outing," she said. "Time and time again we see tiny boats setting out crowded with adults and with no more than three inches of freeboard. That's not enough."

She criticized people who use a boat as a plaything instead of a means of transportation, especially high-powered inboards and outboards.

In a way, she said, racing about for the sake of being afloat is comparable to the same kind of nonsense prevalent in the car-owning silly set.

"Of course, in boats it takes place at a lower speed, but that water is cold and wet, and if no one is handy for a rescue you can be in a bad spot," Mrs. Scott said.

All the experts in this area advise keeping an eye on the weather, because conditions can change suddenly and both southeast and westerly winds can make local waters not only uncomfortable but dangerous.

"Plans should always be made subject to change," said Mrs. Scott. "It is ridiculous to set off in a boat against one's better judgment. To do so is foolhardy."

Some of the "do's" advised for safe boating were a pair of oars and oarlocks in good condition for motorboats in the event of engine failure. Most people carry a paddle, but a sea can come up in minutes that will overpower a man with just a paddle.

Neophytes to small boating also are advised to have a life jacket for every person in the boat, and to know the tides well.

A session with a chart is handy, but not necessary. If, however, one is rowing or operating one of the smaller inboard or outboard motorboats, thorough acquaintance with tidal currents is necessary.

Experienced sport and commercial fishermen know them, and can advise on how to avoid trouble, where wind and tide are most likely to create a hazard, and how to meet an emergency or find shelter in the event of a tidal current taking hold.

RAIL MINISTER SAYS PGE WILL PAY OWN WAY

Railways Minister Ralph Chetwynd predicted Tuesday the PGE will have a total gross revenue of $12,000,000 by 1958. Total gross revenue in 1955 was slightly over $4,000,000.

Addressing the Victoria North Kiwanis Club, Mr. Chetwynd said the government-owned railway, a consistent money-loser over the years, will now be able to pay its own way.

"The taxpayers of British Columbia have contributed for the last time in taxes toward this railway," he said.

Mr. Chetwynd said the total number of cars hauled on the PGE rose from 4,000 in 1943 to 35,000 last year.

"It is anticipated that the traffic will be 40,000 in 1956," he said.

TONS OF TIN

The world produced about 50,000,000 tin cans during 1955, using 60,000 tons of tin in doing so.

City Woman Winner Of $5,000 Prizes

A city woman has been awarded top $5,000 value prize in a national contest sponsored by Swift Canadian Company.

Mrs. J. D. Lovely, mother of four, who lives at 3074 Colquitz, will receive a new washer and dryer set and a cash gift to bring her total prize to a $5,000 value.

Contestants had to choose a

1. HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Barbara Fitzgerald, age eight, of Bridgeport, Conn., for her quotation:

Where did the idea of the totem pole come from?

The Ojibwa tribe of the great Algonquins used the word totem. The early settlers gathered that it meant relatives or a badge of kinship. And it was certainly something full of powerful magic. The word was adopted and changed to totem. Many tribes were found to have their totems. But explorers did not find totem poles until they met the Indians of British Columbia and Alaska.

These Indians lived in well-made wooden houses. The strange, garish totem poles stood guard before certain houses. Actually they were straight tree trunks carved with humanlike animal faces one above another and painted with colored earths. But the proud owners were sure their totem poles were full of powerful magic.

The Indians amazed the settlers from the Old World. But most of them were living as all mankind lived before the dawn of written history. Most likely, all mankind once believed in totems. For a long period of pre-history, totem ideas were useful and were stepping stones on the road to civilization. They were buried and forgotten as better ideas came along.

Early mankind was a wanderer in search of food and

Forest Licence Holders Pressured Says Gibson

Former MLA, Before Probe, Urges Establishment of Public Circles

Timber firms holding forest management licences live in fear of government control, retired lumberman Gordon Gibson charged before the Sloan Commission Tuesday.

"Urging complete abolition of the forest management system, Mr. Gibson said the government ruled the forest industry by 'fear and force'."

"The issuance of forest management licences is a straight case of pressure politics, the same way they used to play at 'Tammany Hall,' the former Liberal MLA charged."

Mr. Gibson clashed again with Chief Justice Gordon Sloan when he attempted to re-introduce his "money talks" charges and answer criticism by Gordon Wismer, representing Forest Policy Development Association.

CHARGES GAGGED

Chief Justice Sloan refused to allow Mr. Gibson to reply to Mr. Wismer's accusation that he was "irresponsible" and attempting to "sabotage" the forest industry.

The commissioner said Mr. Wismer's remarks "were made over my objection and trespassing on my ruling."

"The best way is to strike out of the record any reference (by Mr. Wismer) to your statement of 'money talks,'" Chief Justice Sloan told Mr. Gibson.

Mr. Gibson said he had been "unjustifiably attacked" by Mr. Wismer.

When Mr. Gibson attempted to refer to "certain charges made before this court of corruption" Chief Justice Sloan cut him short.

Mr. Gibson was referring to statements made by Vancouver lawyer David Sturdy before the commission last December which resulted in a slander suit being launched by former lands and forests minister R. E. Somers.

REAFFIRMS STAND

Chief Justice Sloan ruled at that time that such charges did not come within the terms of reference of his commission and reiterated his position Tuesday.

Mr. Gibson said he wished to refer to the effect Mr. Sturdy's charges had on the public.

"I am not interested in that," said Chief Justice Sloan, "Just what affects me. The public has the proper time and proper democratic way to express itself," he said.

RULING IGNORED

When Mr. Gibson persisted, the commissioner said:

"You are trespassing on my ruling. Why do you do that? Why drag it in the ears?"

"I'm trying to bring to your attention..." said Mr. Gibson.

"I've taken the position throughout that if there has been anything corrupt, that in itself does not invalidate the contract," Chief Justice Sloan said. "The matter does not come within the terms of my inquiry."

Mr. Gibson said it was "un-timber should be sold at public auction to the highest bidder and the sustained yield program should be taken over by the forest service because it was the "proper custodian" of the forests.

Mr. Gibson urged the commissioner to recommend in his final report that present forest management licences be rescinded within the next 20 years or so to allow the holders to get back their investment.

Otherwise licence holders should be "taxed back to a level with all of us," he said.

25 Victoria Daily Times
WEDNESDAY, JULY 4, 1956

The forest management licence system has created an atmosphere of "suspicion" and "extreme discontent" in the industry. Many firms were selling out after obtaining licences and there have been great changes in management and stock holdings.

Companies are reluctant to take forest management licences because control is being taken out of their hands by the government, Mr. Gibson said.

When should East take the ace of diamond day's hand? The defense hinges on the answer question.

West opened the five of hearts, dummy put up the jack, and East covered with the queen. South played low, won the second heart with the king, and led a diamond to dummy's king.

East probably refused this trick. If East mistakenly took the ace of diamonds immediately, South would be able to win four diamonds and five top cards in the other suits, thus making the game and rubber.

When dummy's king of diamonds held, declarer led the ten of clubs for a finesse, losing to West's queen.

West returned a heart to the ace, and South led another diamond, playing the queen from the king. If East refused this trick, South would switch to clubs, winning two diamonds, four clubs, two and a spade. East was clever enough to take the ace of diamonds on this second round of the suit, but a spade return defeated the contract.

How did East know when to take his ace? In such situations, West is supposed to signal by playing more than necessary on the first trick of the suit to one or four cards. Failure to high-low shows an odd number of cards, usually three.

In this case West played the deuce of diamonds.

the first round of that suit. This play made that West was not going to signal, and East knew his partner held three diamonds. Hence so exactly two diamonds, and the right time to ace was when South played his last diamonds.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20)

You really need to be sure you have everything at home shipshape before you venture into the outside world or you may find a battle royal awaiting you on return there. Get your personal appearance enhanced and health at higher level, too.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21)

Worrying over what you can't avoid actually reduces your efficiency and is detrimental to your good name and to gaining your personal objectives. Be sure to show others you value their good will by really co-operating tonight.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21)

Behind-scenes restrictions keep you from making progress you had planned. These chores must be completed sometime so try and get them behind you now. Then upon approaching good aspects you will be able to make much quicker advancement.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21)

Friends who want you to keep up with their vagaries conflict with amount of cash you have available for such outlays. Try to retain their friendship pleasantly while refraining from putting out these sums. You then make substantial progress.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22)

Worldly interests can be tense because some argumentative associate does not see things your way and causes those of influence to look at you askance. Hew the mark in all worldly matters or you lose considerable prestige. Discretion pays off.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

You want to get off to some better ideas, inspirations than have imbued you lately but first there are those duties which the holiday kept you from finishing. After winding them up, search out by study how you can better yourself. Be careful on highway.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21)

Financial expectations of others can cause you temporarily to be shunted aside from those personal wishes. However, you can attend to both effectively if you schedule your time more sanely, sensibly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21)

Officials and partners seem locked in struggle for power or to put in motion their own particular views. Make sure you keep out or you can have them both turn on you. Perform contracts exactly as you've agreed.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Despite temptation to go off on tangent, you find by completing work you have at your fingertips, you make greater possible progress. Be sure to listen to newcomers but it isn't necessary to put their suggestions into effect yet.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Now you can have a better day if you will keep cheerful, think of the many things you have to be thankful for and have an ever-present smile for those less fortunate. Be sure you remain constant to an economical procedure today, tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20)

Avoid tensions and problems at home and deal with outside contacts, whom you would be wise to see away from your family, who feel like running your life. It isn't necessary to argue but you can keep everyone's good will by such course.

cia Hayes from being gored on her debut in Portugal last night.

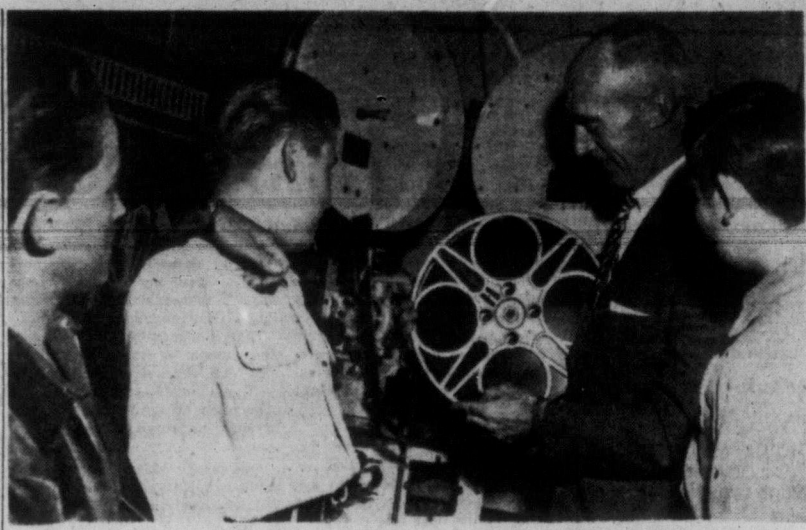

Miss Hayes, of San Angelo, Texas, was knocked down by her second bull last night. She was knocked unconscious by the force of the blow, and the bull wheeled around to charge her, despite efforts by her assistants to entice him away.

Suddenly the four quick-thinking spectators jumped the barrier and raced into the ring. One grabbed the bull by the horns and between them they wrestled him to a standstill while Miss Hayes was carried from the ring.

Doctors said Miss Hayes' was not seriously hurt and would be able to fight again within a week.

TIMES CARRIER BOYS LEARN THE TRICKS

Peter Freuchen His Own Expert; Wins $64,000

NEW YORK (UP)—A 70-year-old Danish explorer-newsman—acting as his own "expert"—Tuesday night won the top prize on the "$64,000 Question" television show by answering correctly a complicated set of questions about the seven seas.

Peter Freuchen, in his fifth and final appearance on the CBS show, was given seven objects and asked to identify each. When contestants reach the $64,000 level on the program they are allowed to consult another expert on their question. Freuchen said he would act as his own "expert." He stepped alone into the program's "isolation" booth and identified all objects correctly.

The questions and answers: Picture of a strange fish, nearly extinct; name the fish. Answer: Coelacanth.

Pictures of two icebergs, one from the Arctic and one from the Antarctic; which is which? Answer: The Arctic berg is rugged, the Antarctic flat.

Map of the Gulf Stream; name the man under whose supervision it was drawn up. Answer: Benjamin Franklin.

A piece of gear; what is it? Answer: A bomb harpoon.

A picture of a ship displaying signals; what do the signals mean? Answer: The ship is towing more than one vessel.

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar Class) A (Don't Miss) BB (Worthwhile) B (For Rainy Days) C (To put in time)

(A) "THE ANIMAL WORLD" (Dominion)—starts Friday)—In parts, especially at the beginning, Warner's "The Animal World," takes on all the awe and majesty of Genesis.

For 82 minutes the story, written, produced and directed by Irwin Allen, winner of an academy award for "The Sea Around Us," traces the history of animal life from its vague existence millions of years ago until the present time.

Possibly the most creative part of the film, and hence its most spectacular, is when the camera picks up the minute workings beneath the sea, particularly the one-celled animals called protozoa. One watches these after millions of years become gigantic reptiles like the Brontosaurus, Ceratosaurus and Dinosaurs. These are wiped out gradually by weather changes, volcanic eruptions and shattering earthquakes.

MAN COMES TO EARTH, fashions crude tools and weapons to eke out his precarious existence. But these are the only times when man is depicted. Otherwise the film is given over to animals.

"The Animal World" is obviously a mighty project. It took two years of planning and two years to film. Cameras were located at 27 different parts of the world at one time. Through it all Allen had the co-operation and advice of hundreds of prominent scientists, naturalists and science groups.

IF THERE IS A WEAKNESS to the film it lies in parts of the final half. Somewhere the commentary by Theodor Von Eltz and John Storm left the "story of God" for their own humor. Although this, too, was good, it immediately put "The Animal World" in competition with Walt Disney and his unforgettable nature works such as "The Living Desert" and "Nature's Half-Acre." And in such fields Disney has no peer.

Nonetheless, this is a picture that should be seen by all, especially by all mothers and fathers and their children. Certainly it appeared to be enjoyed without stint by the raft of Times carrier boys who were guests of Dominion manager Martin Cave at a special preview last Tuesday morning.

NFB's McLaren Still Winning Top Awards

BERLIN (Reuters)—Norman McLaren of Canada's National Film Board was awarded second prize for short documentary films in the international film festival ending here Tuesday night.

The award was for his production, "Rhythmic."

The French film, "Paris at Night," received first prize for short documentaries.

Gene Kelly's "Invitation to the Dance" won first prize for full-length feature films. Second prize was awarded by the international jury to Sir Laurence Olivier's "Richard the Third."

Burt Lancaster won a "golden bear" (first prize) for his role in "Trapeze," and Robert Aldrich was honored for his direction of "Autumn Leaves."

Production of gold in South Africa during 1955 was valued at $184,000,000.

Churchill Dead? 'Oh No, Not Again?'

WESTERHAM, England (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill confirmed Tuesday night that he is still very much alive and kicking.

Rumors that he had died buzzed through German newspaper offices as the 81-year-old statesman ate a hearty dinner in his country house here.

"Oh, no, not again," said his secretary, as she was told of the rumors.

"He's right here in the house enjoying a quiet evening. I must tell him—he'll be amused."

"He always is."

A basking shark caught in California waters measured 30 feet and weighed 8,600 pounds.

"THE WOMAN FOR JOE"

Starring DIANNE CLEMENT, GEORGE BAKER, A. J. DEAN, JIMMY KAGOURI, EARL CAMESON

Everybody loves a circus, and here is a story of all the thrills, dangers, and life in general of fairground folk. We have the Pat Lady, the Flea Trainer, the Strong Man and, last but not least, the Magician. These all play their part in the romantic story of the lovely singer, Mary, and the fair's manager, Joe, as the fair travels about England.

FIRST SERVICES NOV. 11 IN VETERANS' CHAPELS

Remembrance Day services will be first to be conducted in new chapels being constructed at Veterans' Hospital, Padre Douglas Kendall said Tuesday.

Protestant and Roman Catholic chapels are part of the same new premises being built by Parfitt Construction Company at a contract cost of $40,000.

The Protestant Chapel, Chapel of St. Michael (saint of warriors) will seat 70. The RC Chapel of St. Luke (the beloved physician) will seat 18. Bed and wheel-chair patients can be accommodated in each chapel. Chapel adjoins the hospital pavilion.

$5 Million Radar Chain To Combat Air Disasters

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada is preparing a cross-country civilian radar network—the first of its kind in the world—to battle the hazards of air disasters.

The project was cited by officials here Tuesday when they were asked for comment on history's worst commercial air disaster, which took 128 lives at Grand Canyon, Ariz., Saturday.

Officials here noted that the growing air traffic problem was being discussed at a regular meeting of the International Civil Aviation Organization in Caracas, Venezuela, at about the time of the Arizona tragedy.

Montreal, as headquarters of ICAO, an organization of governments, and also of International Air Transport Association, an organization of airlines, has heard frequent warnings of traffic problems on busy airways of the world. The dawn of the jet age in passenger aircraft gave urgency to the studies.

Transport Minister George Marler, heading Canada's delegation to the Caracas meeting, outlined this country's plans for a 15-station link of powerful radar facilities.

The project—first announced by Mr. Marler in April—would cost about $5,000,000, with installations in 15 centres from Montreal to Vancouver.

Air officials estimated Canadian airlines now carry approximately 3,000,000 passengers annually on domestic routes, compared with more than 38,000,000 carried by U.S. domestic lines. It was not known whether the type of radar system being prepared in Canada would be equally effective in the heavier-density traffic of the U.S.

The Canadian network will cover 400,000 square miles and Mr. Marler said it is the first of its size anywhere. Use of radar for air traffic control has been developed only in recent years and its adaptation to civil aviation has been limited until now.

At present airlines are plotted by an airways control system whose basic instrument is the radio telephone, planes being traced by a series of navigational "fixes" as they move across the country.

The 15 powerful radar sets—capable of tracing an aircraft 175 miles away and penetrating foul weather—are being produced to transport department specifications by the Raytheon Manufacturing Company of Waltham, Mass. The sets are effective to a height of 70,000 feet.

The new system is scheduled to go into operation in two years.

100 May Attend Music Teachers' Convention

Fourth biennial convention of the B.C. Music Teachers' Association is expected to draw 100 teachers and students to Metropolitan United Church hall Thursday and Friday.

Speakers will be the Hon. R. G. Williston, minister of education; Mrs. Audrey St. D. Johnson, Victoria Daily Times music critic; Leonard Wilson, Vancouver organist, and Anthony Emery, Greater Victoria Art Gallery.

Piano, string, vocal, accordion and choral teaching and school music will be discussed by panel forums.

RECIPE THURSDAY
Derek Bampton will present a recipe Thursday at 8 p.m., following a dinner in the church hall.

Mr. Wilson, organist and choir-master of St. James' Anglican Church, will be guest artist at a recital Friday at 2 p.m.

Others who will be heard in recital are Janice Ravening, Vancouver violinist; Marlene Vance, Victoria soprano; Valerie Lloyd, Vancouver pianist, and Varick Hewitt, Vancouver soprano.

20,000 Will Die

MONTREAL (CP) — More than 20,000 Canadians will die of cancer this year, a high percentage of them "needlessly," president George C. Hitchman of the Canadian Cancer Society said Tuesday.

Mr. Hitchman told a service club the society has undertaken a three-fold program to combat the disease. This program includes research, education and patients' welfare.

HOTEL CLOSED

SICAMOUS — After serving two train-travelling public for 54 years the Sicamous Hotel here has closed its doors.

The closure was brought about by the cancellation of trains No. 17 and 18 and because the CPR Transcontinental Express, The Canadian, no longer stops here. The hotel was run by the railway until 1932 when it was leased out.

Yacht Races Monday Get Ideal Condition

First of the PCYA and PIYA series races for large and small yachts were run off Tuesday under ideal racing conditions.

The bigger boats, from AA down to Star classes, raced a triangular course with marker buoys off Gordon Head, Cadboro Point, and at Johnstone Rock.

The race committee aboard the launch Romney Spirit did an efficient job bringing order out of confusion as more than 100 craft jockeyed for position at or near the starting line.

Classes were sent away at five-minute intervals, with the result that the triangular course was almost solid with sail before the race was over.

Burquitlam Man Charged with Holdup
As Edmonton Slaying Investigated

VANCOUVER (CP)—Investigation of an Edmonton murder has led to the arrest of a suburban Vancouver man on a charge of bank robbery, police said today.

HON. JEAN LESAGE

Federal Minister Here Today

Federal Resources Minister Jean Lesage and two other Ottawa officials arrived in Victoria today for a private meeting with Premier Bennett on international river problems with special attention to hydro development on the Canadian side of the Columbia River.

"It would be improper for me to discuss these matters before meeting the premier," Mr. Lesage said on his arrival at the Empress Hotel.

With R. G. Robertson, deputy minister of natural resources, and E. A. Cote, assistant deputy minister, Mr. Lesage was meeting the premier in his office this afternoon.

Lands and Forests Minister Ray Williston, Attorney-General Robert Bonner and two or three other top government officials are taking part in the discussions.

Ont. Steel Workers Vote to Go on Strike

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—Five thousand of the 7,000 employees of the Steel Company of Canada plant voted in favor of strike action, a United Steelworkers spokesman said today.

Canada also is starting to feel the impact of the United States steel strike.

Should negotiations bog down in conciliation meetings, the strike vote would leave the Hamilton workers free to act.

The Algoma Steel Company in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., also was opening contract talks. Some 4,000 members of the Steelworkers' Union were voting for a 17-cent an hour package wage boost at the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation in Sydney, N.S.

Stelco negotiations at Hamilton had been lagging as both sides awaited the outcome of the U.S. strike. Canadian firms usually follow American wage increases but to a smaller degree, and the union's Canadian branch was expected to seek settlements comparable to any gains made in the U.S.

Sympathy strikes hit two Canadian groups Tuesday when a subsidiary of the Republic Steel in Hamilton, Union Steel, and the Marmora Mining Company at Marmora were closed by walkouts.

PMs Set To Welcome Malaya Gold Coast Into Partnership

LONDON (CP)—Commonwealth leaders agreed today to open the doors of the global partnership to Malaya and the Gold Coast which are due soon to become independent.

Britain has promised to grant full powers of self-rule to the Malayan federation by the fall of 1957.

$60,000 Holdup In Montreal

MONTREAL (CP)—Police reported today three armed men held up a jewelry store in Montreal's Rosemont district Tuesday night and escaped with about $60,000 in cash and jewelry.

Police said the men scooped diamonds, watches and rings into a sack after binding and gagging the owner of the Mountain Blue Diamond and Gloria Watch Company and another jeweler in the store at the time.

She has offered eventual complete independence to the Gold Coast in West Africa where elections begin next week for the Commonwealth's first all-Negro government.

Both territories now have colonial status, with Britain controlling defence and foreign affairs.

Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru advanced the proposition to eight fellow-premiers that British colonies automatically have the right to full and equal membership of the Commonwealth as soon as they win full control over their home and foreign affairs. Conference officials reported that there was little or no dissent from the Indian view.

Other British territories edging towards full Commonwealth membership are the Central African Federation, Nigeria in West Africa and the 13-island Caribbean Federation.

REEVE STARTS SPROUTING

Can't do a thing with it, says Reeve Arthur Ash, whose grizzled beard should be full-blown by Sept. 1, date of the Saanich Golden Jubilee celebrations. He will vie with councillors for first prize in a beard-growing contest. Birthday celebrations received a boost with a $1,000 cheque presented by the provincial government. (Times photo.)

Living Cost Jump Highest in 5 Years

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs made their biggest monthly rise in five years during May, boosting the consumer price index by 1.2 points to 117.8 from 116.6.

The sudden sharp rise was almost entirely due to a jump in food prices, although other segments of the index also increased slightly, the bureau of statistics reported today.

The yardstick, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, now has reached the second highest level in history, just two-fifths of a point below the record 118.2 reached in Dec., 1951.

The increase of 1.2 points during May was the biggest monthly rise, on a point basis, since June, 1951, when the index increased by 1.5 points.

SPUDS AND MEATS RISE
In the last few years the index usually shifted by fractions of a point. It had remained unchanged in April after increasing by one-fifth of a point in March. A year ago it stood at 115.9, a total of 1.9 points below the current level.

An exceptionally strong seasonal rise in the price of potatoes, combined with increases in coffee, fresh fruits and vegetables and all meat items propelled the big cost-of-living rise.

Two small steel companies, continuing to operate, boosted the price of their steel $8 and $9 a ton in anticipation of added labor costs later on.

The government's "freeze" order, designed to channel critical steel items to defence producers, becomes effective Friday and is expected to last possibly no longer than two weeks.

The order is aimed at ensuring that necessary defence construction and production go on as long as possible with existing steel stocks.

During the period of the "freeze" contractors of the defence department and the Atomic Energy Commission, for example, could acquire or put under order such items stockpiled in warehouses as stainless steel tubing, carbon plate and alloy bar in quantities they might need for the foreseeable future.

Leonard Shoots 72 In British Open Golf

HOYLAK, Eng. (UP)—Stan Leonard of Lachute, Que., and formerly of Vancouver, B.C., shot a one-over-par 72 today in the first round of the British Open golf championship.

Leonard was four strokes back of the leader Welsh pro, Dennis Smalldon, who uncorked a dazzling 68.

Considering the heavy rain, which made conditions uncomfortable, Leonard shot some of the best golf of the day.

On the out nine he three-putted the sixth hole or would have had 4's for every hole.

Fishboat Rammed; Second Feared Lost

Port Alberni Men Safe at Tofino

Special to The Times

TOFINO, B.C.—A fisherman and his son reached safety at Tofino today after their fishboat, the 42-foot B.C. Troller, was rammed Tuesday night by a larger vessel, but they fear a second fishing boat might have been sunk without a trace.

A radio message received from the B.C. Troller at 2 a.m. reported it had been hit and that a section of the stern had been carried away. It was taken to Tofino under its own power.

The collision occurred about 10 miles offshore from Tofino. Alf Styan of Port Alberni, owner and operator of the B.C. Troller, said another fishboat had been working in the same area, but that after the freighter passed there was no sign of it.

NO SIGNALS HEARD
There has been no further report of other craft missing. Harold Sloman, coxswain of the Department of Transport lifeboat crew, checked both Estevan and Pachea light stations regarding reports of the second vessel, but said no distress signals had been received.

"We have no report of a second boat," Mr. Sloman stated. The ship that struck Styan's craft was not identified. Only sizeable vessel reported in the area at that time was the New Zealand freighter Waltemata, of 7,300 tons, that left Tahsis Tuesday and was due off Cape Beale, 40 miles south of the accident scene at 2 a.m. today.

PLANES SEARCHING
Mr. Sloman said he understood the accident had occurred at 11:30 p.m. Tuesday, but that definite word of the fate of the other boat was hampered by poor communications in the area.

Two aircraft were reported making a search in the area, but visibility was limited to only three or four miles. The collision occurred about seven miles offshore from Lennard Island, which in turn is about three miles west of Tofino. It is about 125 miles northwest of Victoria.

Rosewall in Final

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (AP) Second-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia defeated Vic Seixas of the United States, 6-3, 3-6, 6-8, 6-3, 7-5 in the semi-finals of men's singles in the All-England tennis championships today.

The match was interrupted for two hours by rain. In the final, Rosewall will meet the winner of the match between top-seeded Lew Hoad of Australia and Hamilton Richardson of the United States.

Manitoba Cabinet Shuffled

WINNIPEG (BUP)—Manitoba Premier Douglas Campbell announced a major cabinet reshuffle today centered around the appointment of Labor Minister Charles E. Greenlay to the treasury post succeeding former Provincial Treasurer R. D. Turner.

Greenlay will continue to hold the labor portfolio. Turner resigned early this year to become president of Trans-Air Ltd., a new air line.

In her cabinet changes, former agriculture minister R. D. Robertson becomes public works minister formerly held by new mines and resources minister F. C. Bell. Greenlay also held the mines and resources portfolio in the old cabinet.

Public Utilities Minister C. L. Shuttleworth will assume the agriculture portfolio and keep his present post.

Francis L. John, the member for The Pas, was elevated to the cabinet and will become minister of industry and commerce, both posts also formerly held by Turner.

Turner will continue to represent Winnipeg South as a private member of the legislature at least for the duration of the present House.

16 Million Population In Canada By Summer

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada's population rose to 15,861,000 at March 1 and government officials estimated today the 16,000,000 mark probably will be reached by late summer.

The bureau of statistics said in a quarterly report on population that the 15,861,000 figure represented an increase of 69,000 or 1.7 per cent over the previous quarterly estimate of 15,792,000 at Dec. 1. The increase compares with a gain of 72,000 or 1.9 per cent during the December-February period of 1954-55.

A bureau official said previous population increases between March 1 and the end of August indicate that Canada's population will reach 16,000,000 some time in August.

He said his forecast is based on the expected natural increase in population and the likelihood that the flow of immigrants will be stepped up this summer.

WHERE'S THE WIND?

'Easy Listening' Music At Butchart's Thursday

A program for easy listening on a balmy summer evening will contain some of the most melodious music in the repertoire of the orchestra when the Victoria Symphony Orchestra plays in Butchart Gardens Thursday evening.

The concert, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Ian Ross, is a magnificent extra dividend on the price of admission to one of the world's most famous gardens.

With Hans Gruber conducting and Marguerite Leveigne, grand award winner of Singing Stars of Tomorrow as guest artist, music to be presented will include favorite arias from "Madame Butterfly," "La Bohème" and Verdi.

In addition, she will sing the beautiful "Exultate Jubilate," by Mozart, which was her most highly acclaimed number when she appeared as soloist at the recent Toronto Symphony Prom concert.

Orchestral numbers will be Offenbach's "Gaitie Parisienne," ballet music from Tchaikowski's "Swan Lake," "The Moldau," by Smetana, and "Pomp and Circumstance," by Elgar.

The concert begins at 8.15 and flood lighting will be turned on at intermission time.

Brief U.S. Steel Strike Would Not Hurt Canada

Consensus Across Country Shows Lengthy Stoppage Would Distress

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canada can take a short United States steel strike without major strain, but a long one will cause distress.

This seems to be the cross-country consensus—gathered by Canadian Press bureaus—but with most observers saying it is too early to make a definite assessment.

A relatively painless strike would be one in the range of two weeks. After that it would start to pinch, a month would hurt for sure, and much longer might mean—in the words of one observer—"an approach to catastrophe."

Canada gets about a fifth of her steel supplies from the United States and even if the tie-up ended today it would cause some pain.

STEEL SHORTAGE FELT OVER WORLD

Even those most optimistic about the immediate future say a lack of a few vital items can put a bad crimp in production.

The strike comes in the midst of an already world-wide steel scarcity and Canadian plants are already working above rated capacity and don't make many of the items imported.

Major items imported include wide-flange structural steel beams, big pipe, and plates—including plates for automobile bodies.

There is little definite information on how far ahead various jobs have ensured their supplies, but so far there have been few if any indications of early shut-downs.

A shortage of wide-flange steel beams would hit the heavy construction industry, including office buildings, power plants, bridges—and even the expansions of Canadian steel plants designed to make Canadians less dependent on imports.

PIPELINE COMPANY HAS 60-DAY SUPPLY

Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., now embarked on its 574-mile natural-gas pipeline from Alberta to Winnipeg, says it has on hand or within sight about 115 miles of 34-inch pipe—the size to be used on the Prairies.

It expects to have two crews laying pipe within a fortnight at the rate of two miles a day. The two crews would thus use up the present pipe supply in about 60 days. A prolonged strike is expected to affect the company's August construction plans.

Whatever the strike's length, steel will soon cost more—already one United States company still producing has raised its price $3 a ton and any settlement will be at higher wage levels.

Effects will extend at least into next winter. Iron-ore shipments from American points, already below normal because of a succession of navigation difficulties through the Great Lakes waterway, now are stopped for the strike's duration and ore piles may be low six or seven months from now.

Not much relief is expected from Canadian ore because of the complicated nature of steel making.

First direct strike results in Canada were reported from Hamilton, Marmora and Windsor in Ontario.

At Hamilton several score employees of Union Drawn Steel Company, a subsidiary of Republic Steel Corporation, left their jobs in sympathy with workers in the American parent plant.

At Marmora 285 workers at the Marmora Mining Company, a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, also went on sympathy strike.

At Windsor it is predicted that navigation on the Detroit River may be cut by more than half because of reduced iron-ore shipments.

For the most part, cross-country comment was cautious.

Most Manitoba spokesmen felt it was too early to make an assessment. The provincial government's bridge department has steel girders on order from the United States for delivery in the third quarter just started, and they have no indication whether there will be delay.

Park Opening Attendance Near Record

Near-record attendance at city parks was set on opening day Tuesday, playground supervisor Gordon L. Hartley said today.

Sunny skies brought droves of youngsters to the six supervised playgrounds. "A few left with bumps and bruises, but everything ran very smoothly," Hartley said.

Central and Beacon Hill parks led with close to 300 children each. The smaller parks averaged 125 but Oaklands reported a bumper attendance of 245 children at the afternoon session.

Children were rampant at Oak Bay playgrounds too. "We had a very full day," said a playground official. "The attendance was far more than we had hoped for."

Windsor and Carnarvon parks are open from 9 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., and Lafayette, Willows and Firemen's parks, from 9 to 11.30 a.m.

Hit the Hole, Win $10,000

EDMONTON (CP) — Renfrew baseball park here has a $10,000 hole in its left-field wall.

The prize is open to any member of a team in the Western Canada Baseball League on a hit made in a regular schedule or playoff game.

But the hole is only 4.75 inches in diameter, compared to a baseball's 2.89 inches.

LONDON BANK CASHES CRICKET BAT CHEQUE

LONDON (Reuters)—A British Army officer, in a hurry to catch a plane, used a cricket bat as a bank cheque and the bank honored it.

Maj. W. K. Hedley, stationed in Germany, thrust the bat into his father's hands at London airport with instructions to have a new blade put on it.

Then he realized he hadn't money to pay for the reblading, so he wrote a "cheque" on the bat for £3 7s 6d and pasted the proper stamp on it.

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (BUP)

—Every available policeman was called on duty and a round-up of known sex offenders was under way today in a search for the slayer of an attractive 25-year-old nurse's aide.

The almost nude body of Mrs. Vivian Mytruk was found Sunday under the back porch of a store near her home by two boys looking for their pet rabbit.

An autopsy report showed that she had been criminally attacked and throttled.

The victim's husband, Nicholas Mytruk, is in a hospital recovering from an injury received in a paper mill accident six months ago. When his wife failed to report on duty Sunday he called neighbors, who said Mytruk's dog had not been fed and the Saturday newspaper was still on the porch.

The murdered woman's spectacles were found near her home.

and the broken belt of her raincoat, the only article of her clothing recovered, was found half a block away.

Off-duty and holidaying constables from both the Port Arthur police force and Ontario provincial police were called back to their stations by Inspector R. H. Wannell of the criminal investigation bureau in Toronto, who took charge of the investigation.

Broad Aerial Survey Approved by Oak Bay

Oak Bay council Tuesday approved an aerial survey of the area bounded by Cedar Hill Crossroad, Gordon Head Road and Saanich boundary. About 150 acres is involved.

Hudson's Bay Company, which owns a tract in the area, will be asked to share costs of $437. The map will be of assistance in future sewer considerations.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Industrials Strong In Toronto Trading

TORONTO (CP)—The stock market showed solid strength in industrials and scattered gains in the other sections during mid-afternoon dealings. The industrial index climbed more than two points. Volume at 2 p.m. was 1,900,000 shares, slowest since Nov. 22, 1955. Tuesday's total at the same time was 2,809,000.

Ford B marked up a five-point gain and Confederation Life was up three points. Gains of a point or more went to Calgary Power, up 1 1/2 to a new high of 65, Bank of Nova Scotia, Building Products and Bank of Montreal. Chartered Trust and Donnell and Mudge plunged five points. Canada Iron Foundries was off 1 1/2 and Trans Mountain 1 1/2 points. Falconbridge moved ahead.

LONDON

LONDON (Reuters)—With sentiment helped by government optimism about the economic outlook and Tuesday's advance on Wall Street, the stock market made a good showing today although business was limited. Gains were fairly widespread in industrials, mines and oils.

Steel shares continued their better trend and the motors were brighter under lead of Rolls Royce and Ford. Closing prices: Associated Electric 66 3/4, Associated Newspapers 13s, Babcock and Wilcox 7s 3/4, Blythwoods 2s 3/4, Bowater Paper 50s, British American Tobacco 48s, British Canadian 16s 3/4, Canadian Pacific 59 1/4, Central Mining 49s 6d, Courtaulds 35s 6d.

Building Contracts Set Record

TORONTO (CP)—Canadian construction contracts in the first six months of this year totalled $1,615,529,700—an all-time record and $275,515,400 above the same period last year—says Hugh C. MacLean, Building Reports.

June contracts also set a record at $392,183,800, up $52,869,000. All regions—Atlantic, Quebec, Ontario and Western—posted gains. Big June jobs included: Provincial roadwork, Alberta, $7,300,000, chemical plant, Pincher Creek, Alta., $3,000,000 gas pipeline, Saskatchewan, $2,700,000.

Chrysler Gives Post To Ex-Winnipegger

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—C. Allan Foran, 31, formerly of Winnipeg and Toronto, has been appointed assistant to the executive vice-president of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, it was announced today. He is to head a new department shortly to be established.

Wholesale Index

Increased in May

OTTAWA (CP)—The wholesale price index rose during May reflecting increases in animal and vegetable products and iron and its products, the bureau of statistics reported Tuesday.

The index, based on 1935-39 prices equalling 100, rose to 225.3 from 224.5 in April. The May figure was 34 per cent higher than the 217.8 a year earlier.

U.K. Economic Slump Denied by Macmillan

LONDON (Reuters)—Treasury chief Harold Macmillan strongly denied today that the layoffs in Britain's auto industry foreshadowed an economic slump.

The British Motor Corporation, makers of Austin, Morris, Riley, M.G. cars and commercial vehicles, last Friday laid off 6,000 of its 55,000 workers because of a decline in sales both at home and abroad.

ASK ABOUT VICTORIA

"I get so many inquiries about Victoria I have to read your newspaper to keep up with what is going on," Mrs. Tinkham said.

"People from as far down the coast as San Francisco and Los Angeles come into my office asking what is happening in Victoria."

"What interests them most? Well, the world's tallest totem seems to be a leading attraction. But lots of people also want to know about your Parliament Buildings... does the Queen visit there? Do they keep the crown jewels there? How many English people live in Victoria, etcetera."

"I've had many inquiries about your symphony concerts in Butchart's Garden. So many Americans want to see these last year and want to go again."

Tallest Totem, Concerts Big Interest to Tourists

By NORMAN CIBRENS
 Times Staff Reporter

PORT ANGELES, Wash. — This lumbering city of 11,800 is enjoying a boom in tourist trade this summer and a fair proportion of it is coming from Victoria, Vancouver and other parts of B.C.

Around 500 carloads of logs are brought here daily from the neighboring woods, but W. Ivor Smith, until recently mayor of Port Angeles, believes the city will ultimately depend more on tourists than on lumbering.

"This may not happen for 10 years or more," Mr. Smith said, "but everything points that way. We get more tourists every year and this summer looks like being a record."

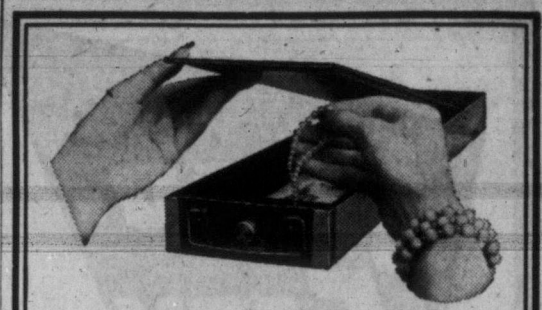

Some members of the city council are opposed to this. They insist

Port Angeles is pre-eminently a lumbering city and regard tourist traffic as something of a hindrance—especially when logging trucks are held up at street corners by sightseeing motorists.

The drive for more tourist trade, however, has a growing number of supporters and one of the most enthusiastic is Mrs. Evelyn Tinkham, who, agitated for the city's first tourist centre known as The Longhouse, and operated it for the first 12 months.

Mrs. Tinkham—who might also be called the "George Warren" of Port Angeles—has so much faith in the city's tourist future, that she recently invested all her funds in a new business known as Tink's Travel Service.

The service is run in conjunction with Aggie's Broiler, restaurant

BETWEEN TIMES By MONTE ROBERTS

We are having a bit of calendar trouble at our house, and perhaps you could help us with some timely advice.

The calendar trouble we are having is not our usual calendar trouble, such as not understanding why May 24 falls on May 21 and July 1 falls on July 2.

No, the calendar trouble we are having now is, which are the last two weeks in July?

Possibly you are mildly curious as to why we wish to know which are the last two weeks in July. To the average person, no doubt, the last two weeks in July are of supreme unimportance, and could fall on Jan. 1, for all he cared.

But in our house, the last two weeks of July are of the essence. My Favorite Wife and I have been looking forward to the last two weeks in July for 10, these many moons, because those are the weeks we chose for our holidays.

A long, long, time ago, MFW and I decided we'd like to have our summer vacation during the last two weeks in July, and we requested from our respective employers the privilege of so doing.

And our respective employers, bless their big fat hearts, said, why, sure, the last two weeks in July will be a splendid time to not have you around, cluttering up the place.

Which led up to the calendar trouble we are having in our house.

• We do not know which are the last two weeks in July.

My theory is, the last two weeks start July 15 and end July 29.

But My Favorite Wife says this can't be so, because July does not end until July 31, so how can the last two weeks in July end on July 29?

HER theory is, the last two weeks in July start July 22 and end August 5.

But I say this can't be so, because July ends on July 31, so how can the last two weeks in July end on August 5?

This is why I am appealing for help, MFW and I would like to spend our holidays during the same last two weeks in July, so which are they? The last two weeks, that is.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A card of appreciation from visitors from Los Angeles was received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce today.

The card complimented the chamber and city on its "yellow line" tours.

"We would have been lost without it," the visitors wrote.

Wilfred Hollinger, 395 John Street, was found not guilty by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today of assaulting and causing bodily harm to Mary Lushaw on June 16.

Mrs. Lushaw claimed that Hollinger, during a scuffle with her husband at the corner of Government and Pandora, struck her, broke two of her fingers and bruised her eye.

Magistrate Hall said he felt that Mrs. Lushaw broke her fingers when she grabbed Hollinger by the back of his neck.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, a World's Tallest Stomachholder, has written John B. Bennett, 374 George Road West, thanking him for subscribing on his behalf.

Mr. St. Laurent wrote: "I wish to thank you for your thoughtfulness in subscribing a share in my name. I am happy to have for display a share certificate in this project which proposes to perpetuate the ancient art of our Canadian Indians."

Winners of the monthly master-point competition of the Victoria Duplicate Bridge Club Tuesday meet follow:

North-South: Joe Lukas and Bill Brown-Cave; Mr. and Mrs. G. Beale; Elizabeth Warren and Leslie Stewart; Otto Leestman and Frank Artlett.

East-West: Ann Kocutyn and Madge Meachem; Laura Tinglev and Isabel Kelly; Ethel Cleworth and Jack Goldie; Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Duprau.

Vancouver Island Poultry Producers' Association will hold a membership meeting in the Canadian Legion Hall, Nanaimo, next Tuesday at 8 p.m.

A film and talk on the "Navy Goes North" will be presented Thursday at noon to the Rotary Club in the Empress Hotel by Lieut.-Cmdr. Pettit.

Chairman of the advance gifts committee, Victoria Community Chest is E. W. Arnott, B.C. Electric Company vice-president. It was announced Tuesday. The drive starts Oct. 1.

Gerry K. Sammon, executive vice-president of the DVA Employees' National Association, is among four city delegates to the 21st Civil Service Federation of Canada convention in Ottawa, which starts Monday.

Others are John E. Carey, provincial vice-president, National Defence Employees' Association; James Bryant, NDEA national vice-president, and Jim Randall, president, Vancouver Island branch.

Esquimalt-Saanich CCF Association will hold a basket picnic at Mount Douglas Park at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 14.

Sports and games are planned and a campfire sing-song. Members and friends from Victoria-Oak Bay, Cowichan-Newcastle and Nanaimo are invited.

Robert Strachan, provincial leader, and Dr. J. M. Thomas, Esquimalt-Saanich federal riding candidate, will attend.

Continuing his final argument before the Sloan Forestry Commission, Mr. Gibson said only the poorest timber had gone into public working circles for the small logger.

One of the reasons, he said, was that the small operators did not have the funds to make representations to the government.

"Under the forest management licence system, small loggers are pushed to the wall and survive only as hired labor and sharecroppers," said Mr. Gibson, a retired lumberman.

Mr. Gibson said there is a need to return to free enterprise and open competition.

"The allocation of our resources to a privileged few doesn't guarantee prosperity and security for the people," he said.

The key to B.C.'s progress is in the classroom, Education Minister R. G. Williston told 1,500 teachers at opening ceremonies of the Summer School of Education at Lansdowne Junior High School this morning.

Speaking in his dual role as Lands and Forest Minister and Education Minister, Mr. Williston said "Industry and education must work together to build B.C.'s future. We need people with specific skills and ability as well as character."

Summer School director Robert T. Wallace introduced past directors in the school's 43-year history, Dr. H. G. Campbell, Dr. C. B. Conway and Dr. W. H. Johnson.

A camera, gift of the summer school, was presented to immediate past director, Dr. Johnson.

The teachers were welcomed also by Willard Ireland, vice-chairman of the Victoria College Council, and Humphrey Golby, chairman of the Greater Victoria School Board.

Following the ceremony, classes got under way. Eighty courses are offered for the five-week session, ending Aug. 7.

Continuing his final argument before the Sloan Forestry Commission, Mr. Gibson said only the poorest timber had gone into public working circles for the small logger.

One of the reasons, he said, was that the small operators did not have the funds to make representations to the government.

"Under the forest management licence system, small loggers are pushed to the wall and survive only as hired labor and sharecroppers," said Mr. Gibson, a retired lumberman.

Mr. Gibson said there is a need to return to free enterprise and open competition.

"The allocation of our resources to a privileged few doesn't guarantee prosperity and security for the people," he said.

RARE DELPHINIUMS 10 FEET HIGH

Rare and fair Pacific giant hybrid delphiniums, a riot of whites, blues, purples and pinks, grow to height of more than 10 feet in crescent delphinium garden of Theodore Diminyatz, 617 St. Charles, shown above.

Phenomenal growth was achieved in third year of perennials. Sightseeing buses stop at residence to give visitors a chance to see dozens of bushes, hundreds of stalks, unnumbered blooms. (Times photo.)

No BCE Decision Yet On New Wage Rates

B.C. Electric officials said today it may be a week before decision is reached to accept or reject a conciliation board recommendation for a 28½-cent wage boost for 1,400 drivers and mechanics here and on the mainland.

E. W. Arnott, vice-president in charge of Vancouver Island operations, would make no comment on speculation that a wage boost would be speedily reflected in an increase in transit fares.

The decision would have to await acceptance of the award, a company official said.

A conciliation board majority report, approved by officials of the Street Railwaymen's Union, recommended increases totalling 28½ cents an hour spread over a two-year period.

The report recommended the wage increase be given in three stages with the first being retroactive to June 1.

It was signed by labor nominee, Vancouver Alderman Halford D. Wilson and board chairman Leslie F. Parsons. Company nominee C. G. Robson submitted a minority report.

If the company rejects the award, the union then may request a government-supervised strike vote.

$48,748,888 Road Contracts Let So Far

Half of Road Budget Spent Says Gaglardi

Highways Minister P. A. Gaglardi revealed today he has let contracts totalling $48,748,888 out of this year's highway budget.

He disclosed that most of the work was put out to contract in the period since the beginning of the fiscal year April 1.

"Of the total, about 10 per cent is continuing work committed last year," he said. "The balance is all new work."

Mr. Gaglardi said the total will rise to about $52,000,000 when Dawson Wade & Company is awarded a $4,000,000 contract for two sections of the Trans-Canada Highway in the Fraser Canyon.

"Only three months of the fiscal year have gone by and I have already committed more than half of my $80,604,000 budget," he stated.

The minister gave this breakdown of how the money will be spent: Trans-Canada Highway $13,670,100; general highways (new and reconstruction) $23,785,100; bridges and ferry landings $4,856,000; paving $6,437,680.

Mr. Gaglardi could not say how much of the work would be completed this year—that is by March 31, end of the current fiscal year.

'COULDN'T BELIEVE IT' Symphony's Soloist Thrilled To Be Here

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

A young lady who "couldn't believe it was true" when she received the telegram inviting her to appear as soloist at the famed Butchart Gardens Victoria Symphony Orchestra concert, arrived here Tuesday, spent an enchanted afternoon in the gardens and a four-hour stint of rehearsal with the orchestra in the evening.

This morning she was relaxed and serene—at least outwardly. None of the volatile excitement traditionally associated with artists and French Canadian mademoiselles was apparent.

But there was a glow of happiness in her dark eyes and her rich, warm speaking voice vibrated with the thrill of her first long journey west and the probability of singing, Thursday night, to one of the largest symphony audiences in the history of Canadian music.

As grand award winner of this year's Singing Stars of Tomorrow radio broadcast, Miss Lavergne has been singing operatic works almost exclusively.

Her real love, however, is lieder, and "just to relieve the monotony" she has been preparing a recital of lieder and Bach which she plans to give in Montreal later this season.

VIENNA-BOUND

Then in the fall, the earnest young singer will go to Vienna, there to make a special study of lieder for the next couple of years.

Miss Lavergne started serious study five years ago at the age of 19 at a sisters of St. Anne convent at Lachine, Que.

Since that time she has won a scholarship for piano and one for singing; she was the 1953 winner of "Opportunity Knocks" and won the Archambault prize in 1954.

She has sung with the Opera Guild of Montreal and in the Opera Festival at Toronto, and recently was soloist for the Toronto Symphony prom concert.

At home, she is housekeeper for her father and two brothers. She likes cooking but has few interests that can compete with her devotion to her music.

Completion of Saanich Sewer Project Undecided

Saanich council Tuesday split over the question whether it should make an immediate start to complete the sewerage program halted last October due to a $594,488 deficit.

After a heated debate it was agreed to allow municipal engineer H. D. Dawson to install sewer pipes through 19 vacant lots. But his request to connect 200 homes in the Maplewood and Ocean View districts to the sewerage system was refused.

Council approved the installations through the vacant lots after the engineer explained costs would triple if homes were built on the properties before the pipes were installed.

Coun. Leslie Passmore, chairman of the sewerage and drainage committee, was in favor of giving the engineer authority to connect the 200 additional homes to the system.

He said the engineer could proceed with the work with $73,000 left in the sewer fund.

But Reeve Arthur Ash, Councilors Ronald Grant and T. J. O'Neill were not in favor of starting work on the project until a consulting engineer checked the Saanich engineer's cost figures and a system of cost accounting is set up.

The sewerage project ran into a $500,000 deficit last year.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Big Sale of Summer Togs Draws Budgeted Shoppers

By PENNY SAVER

Now is the ideal time to be buying summer cottons and sports outfits, for there are wonderful sales being held downtown. Waist-length sun halters, to bare and help brown shoulders, are boned, and attractively styled strapless, with halter straps, with stitching or with other top fashion details to make them comfortable to wear with shorts and pedal pushers or with skirts for informal afternoons and evenings. Of washable cotton, they're made by a well-known company. Formerly priced at $2.95, $3.95 and $4.95, they are now selling at just two-thirds of those prices.

You can buy red, white, yellow, gold, vivid blue or grey. Shorts, pedal pushers, capris, shirts and T-shirts are all selling at one-third off.

In another store, I found polished cotton and cotton-silk mixture two-piece summer outfits to wear everywhere this summer. These are selling at half price. They were $16.95, and are now $8.47. Full skirts with unpressed pleats are topped with sun-time blouses that are sleeveless, and have either fly-away wing collars or flattering wide cuffed necklines that make these outfits suitable for early evening wear, too. Checks, plaids, stripes and lovely floral prints are available in this popular style.

I had a preview peek at some wonderful buys in wool tweeds and worsted skirts that will be going on sale Thursday. Many feature all-leather belts in classic and novelty styles. There are slim and gracefully gored styles and pockets, button interest or completely plain to be teamed with favorite blouses and sweaters. These are the types of skirts that can be worn anytime of year and look smart. Regularly priced from $14.95 to $17.95, these are a real buy at $8.88.

Fancy sheer nylon gloves are on sale for $1 in one of Victoria's stores. Shirred and ruffled cuffs, embroidered, dotted, or be-jewelled backs are featured in these easily washed, and quickly dried gloves. Pink, navy, olive, tan, powder blue, yellow, white and red are shown in short-short, or medium lengths to go with suits or dresses.

Call me at 2-3131 and I'll tell you where I saw the items mentioned in today's column.

Home-Made Milk Shakes Are Cooling, Nutritious

You'll not find your family shying away from drinking their necessary-for-health daily quota of milk when you combine fully-flavored B.C. milk with easy-to-make cocoa or coffee syrup to make tempting beverages, or with ice cream to make a "shake." These frosty coolers quench thirst and revive summer-faded energy.

Cocoa Milk Shake—Four cups chilled milk, ½ cup cocoa syrup, 4 tablespoons malt (optional). Beat mixture together thoroughly with beater or in blender. To make cocoa syrup—Combine 1 cup granulated sugar, ½ cup cocoa in saucepan. Stir in ½ cup cold water. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture boils. Stir and boil 2 minutes. Cool. Refrigerate.

Mocha Milk Shake—1½ cups strong coffee, 1½ cups milk, 4

tablespoons cocoa syrup, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 pint vanilla or chocolate ice cream. Combine coffee, milk, cocoa syrup and sugar. Beat until frothy. Pour into chilled glasses. Add scoop of ice cream to each glass. Makes 4 servings.

Frosty Coffee Milk—One glass chilled milk, 3 tablespoons coffee syrup. Stir syrup into milk until well mixed. To make coffee syrup—Beat together 1 cup granulated sugar, ½ cup cocoa, ¼ teaspoon salt and 1½ cups hot coffee. Simmer over low heat 5 minutes. Cool. Refrigerate.

Annual Recital Presented by Piano Students

Duets played by Bobby and Billy Turner and John and Barbara Kreaker were a part of the program presented by the music pupils of Miss L. M. Simpson, 3268 Milgrove street, at their annual pianoforte recital. An interesting number was a duet with Jerry Whitehead on the accordion, and his sister, Karen Whitehead, at the piano. Other children taking part were Ethel Arnold, Betty Conway, Patricia Puhach, Linda Rains, Linda Roberg, Elaine Simpson and Sheila Smiri.

NEW ANTISEPTIC DEODORANT safely stops perspiration 1 to 3 days

Bride Chooses Pale Yellow For Wedding

Wearing a pale yellow bridal gown of taffeta, lace and net, Miss Frances Mildred Hartshorne, daughter of Mrs. M. Hartshorne, Laurel road, Sidney, and Mr. R. Hartshorne, Clayton road, Sidney, entered St. John's United Church, Deep Cove, to exchange wedding vows with Gerald Grant Sheppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Sheppard, North Battleford, Sask.

Rev. Buckingham officiated at the ceremony in a setting of delphiniums, roses and lilies. Mrs. N. Hadley was soloist, and sang "The Wedding Prayer." The bride was given in marriage by her father. She completed her bridal ensemble with a waistlength veil, pearl jewelry and a bridal bouquet of white carnations, heather and yellow rosebuds to complement her gown.

Attendants were the bride's sisters, Miss Janet Hartshorne, in a flowing gown of pale blue tulle and a bouquet of summer flowers, and Miss Ruby Hartshorne in a pale green gown of tulle and a nosegay of rosebuds.

Best man was James Ronald Phillips, and ushers were Ken Mollet and the bride's brothers, George Hartshorne and Frank Hartshorne.

A four-tier wedding cake decorated by Mrs. S. Lord centred the bride's table at the reception party which followed in St. John's Church hall. A buffet luncheon was served. W. Lannon proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling, the bride wore a forest green suit with white poodle cloth shortie coat and white accessories. Following a honeymoon trip to Seattle, the newlyweds will make their home at 1032 Oliphant street.

When pressure cooking vegetables remember to cool the pot down quickly. Slow cooling cooks the vegetables to unpalatable done-ness.

National Jaycee Parley Here, 1958

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Junior Chamber of Commerce of Canada will hold its 1958 annual convention in Victoria, delegates at this year's conference decided today. The 1957 convention was scheduled earlier for Ottawa.

Murder Warrants Out for Couple

SUDBURY (CP)—Ontario provincial police said today they are holding warrants charging a 37-year-old man and his wife with the slaying of William Snider, 78, at Espanola, 50 miles west of here.

Police said the pair, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Guay of Espanola, are travelling toward Toronto in a car with their six children, ranging in age from 18 months to 13 years. Snider's badly beaten body was found Friday in a lonely shack by a census taker. Police said he was killed five or six days before.

Toronto Bank Holdup Suspect Held

TORONTO (BUP)—Police today held Jack Leslie, 30, Warner Robbins, Ga., in connection with Tuesday's one-man $4,651 holdup of a branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce.

Suburban Scarboro police arrested Leslie three hours after the holdup at a Kingston Road motel when detectives spotted the 1954 Cadillac that matched the description of the getaway car.

14-Year-Old Murder Suspect Examined

MONTREAL (BUP)—Psychiatrists today began a four or five-week study of a 14-year-old murder suspect to determine whether he is mentally ill.

The boy, whose name was withheld because of his age, was arrested last week by Quebec provincial police who called him the "prime suspect" in the slaying June 8 of nine-year-old Bobby Jones. The bludgeoned body of the victim was found in north-end Montreal June 10 after a two-day search which began when his parents reported him missing.

Britons, Cypriots Fight Forest Fires

NICOSIA (Reuters)—The biggest-ever fire on Cyprus was burning out of control today in the Paphos forest in the west of the island, with damage so far officially estimated at £1,000,000 ($2,800,000).

Some 700 British troops helped 2,000 Cypriot firefighters battle the three-day Paphos blaze at Pihocli Ridge, 52 miles west of Nicosia, in what a forest official called "a last stand."

Australian Dockers Again Idle

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Thousands of dockers were idle again today on the Australian waterfront over new loading rules that call for smaller gangs and bigger loads.

The picture throughout Australia's 57 ports was confused with some completely idle and others partly so. Agents for ocean-going passenger ships said their vessels would sail on time whether loaded with cargo or not.

George Cross Award Cancelled

OTTAWA (CP)—Queen Elizabeth has granted permission to cancel the award of the George Medal to Edward C. Chipman, 33, of Verdun, Que., for an act of bravery.

State Secretary Pinard said today in the Commons Mr. Chipman, a milkman, requested the cancellation of the award because of a newspaper controversy as to whether his act of bravery was of sufficient degree to warrant the George Medal.

THE QUIBBLING STARTS

Her Totem Pole 'Best'
Claims Jealous Toronto

TORONTO (CP)—A new out-break of east-west rivalry has partitioned debating which of size or tradition is the more important in a totem pole.

A whopping 127-foot seven-inch totem pole was raised in Victoria Monday. The project was sponsored by the Victoria Times and financed by 10,000 persons who each paid 50 cents. The object was to remove Toronto's claim to having the world's tallest totem pole, an 86-foot in the central rotunda of the Royal Ontario Museum.

Torontonians now say their totem pole is still the tallest in the world carved by Indians for Indians. It was carved about 1865 and discovered in a southern B.C. forest in 1927.

Totem poles were carved by six west coast Indian tribes. Their history is obscure, but they are generally considered to represent a symbol of tribal unity or a propitiation to the tribal gods.

WHERE'S THE WIND?

Winds which got PCYA-PIYA regatta off to flying start died today, left even light-sailing small craft to drift in glassy calm. Freshening breeze was expected later as small boats race in Cadboro Bay, larger craft outside Discovery Island. (Times photo. See also page 33.)

Living Cost Jump Highest in 5 Years

OTTAWA (CP)—Living costs made their biggest monthly rise in five years during May, boosting the consumer price index by 1.2 points to 117.8 from 116.6.

The sudden sharp rise was almost entirely due to a jump in food prices, although other segments of the index also increased slightly, the bureau of statistics reported today.

The yardstick, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, now has reached the second highest level in history, just two-fifths of a point below the record 118.2 reached in Dec., 1951.

The increase of 1.2 points during May was the biggest monthly rise, on a point basis, since June, 1951, when the index increased by 1.5 points.

SPUDS AND MEATS RISE

In the last few years the index usually shifted by fractions of a point. It had remained unchanged in April after increasing by one-fifth of a point in March. A year ago it stood at 115.9, a total of 1.9 points below the current level.

An exceptionally strong seasonal rise in the price of potatoes, combined with increases in coffee, fresh fruits and vegetables and all meat items propelled the big cost-of-living rise.

Ont. Steel Workers Vote to Go on Strike

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—Five thousand of the 7,000 employees of the Steel Company of Canada plant voted in favor of strike action, a United Steel workers spokesman said today.

Canada also is starting to feel the impact of the United States steel strike.

Should negotiations bog down in conciliation meetings, the strike vote would leave the Hamilton workers free to act. The Algoma Steel Company in Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., also was opening contract talks.

Some 4,000 members of the Steelworkers' Union were voting for a 17-cent an hour package wage boost at the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation in Sydney, N.S.

Steelco negotiations at Hamilton had been lagging as both sides awaited the outcome of the U.S. strike. Canadian firms usually follow American wage increases but to a smaller degree, and the union's Canadian unit was expected to seek settlements comparable to any gains made in the U.S.

Sympathy strikes hit two Canadian groups Tuesday when a subsidiary of the Republic Steel in Hamilton, Union Steel, and the Marmora Mining Company at Marmora were closed by walkouts.

Park Opening Attendance Near Record

Near-record attendance at city parks was set on opening day Tuesday, playground supervisor Gordon L. Hartley said today. Sunny skies brought droves of youngsters to the six supervised playgrounds. "A few left with bumps and bruises, but everything ran very smoothly," Hartley said.

Central and Beacon Hill parks led with close to 300 children each. The smaller parks averaged 125 but Oaklands reported a bumper attendance of 245 children at the afternoon session.

Children were rampant at Oak Bay playgrounds too. "We had a very full day," said a playground official. "The attendance was far more than we had hoped for."

Windsor and Carnarvon parks are open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Lafayette, Willows and Firemen's parks, from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Hit the Hole, Win $10,000

EDMONTON (CP) — Renfrew baseball park here has a $10,000 hole in its left-field wall. The prize is open to any member of a team in the Western Canada Baseball League on a hit made in a regular schedule or playoff game.

But the hole is only 4.75 inches in diameter, compared to a baseball's 2.89 inches.

LONDON BANK CASHES CRICKET BAT CHEQUE

LONDON (Reuters)—A British Army officer, in a hurry to catch a plane, used a cricket bat as a bank cheque and the bank honored it.

Maj. W. K. Hedley, stationed in Germany, thrust the bat into his father's hands at London airport with instructions to have a new blade put on it.

Then he realized he hadn't money to pay for the reblading, so he wrote a "cheque" on the bat for £3 7s 6d and pasted the proper stamp on it.

Mass Police Hunt For Ontario Killer

PORT ARTHUR, Ont. (BUP)

—Every available policeman was called on duty and a roundup of known sex offenders was under way today in a search for the slayer of an attractive 25-year-old nurse's aide.

The almost nude body of Mrs. Vivian Mytruk was found Sunday under the back porch of a store near her home by two boys looking for their pet rabbit.

An autopsy report showed that she had been criminally attacked and throttled.

The victim's husband, Nicholas Mytruk, is in a hospital recovering from an injury received in a paper mill accident six months ago. When his wife failed to report on duty Sunday he called neighbors, who said Mytruk's dog had not been fed and the Saturday newspaper was still on the porch.

The murdered woman's spectacles were found near her home.

and the broken belt of her raincoat, the only article of her clothing recovered, was found half a block away.

Off-duty and holidaying constables from both the Port Arthur police force and Ontario provincial police were called back to their stations by Inspector R. H. Wannell of the criminal investigation bureau in Toronto, who took charge of the investigation.

Broad Aerial Survey Approved by Oak Bay

Oak Bay council Tuesday approved an aerial survey of the area bounded by Cedar Hill Crossroad, Gordon Head Road and Saanich boundary. About 150 acres is involved.

Hudson's Bay Company, which owns a tract in the area, will be asked to share costs of $437. The map will be of assistance in future sewer considerations.

16 Million Population In Canada By Summer

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's population rose to 15,861,000 at March 1 and government officials estimated today the 16,000,000 mark probably will be reached by late summer.

The bureau of statistics said in a quarterly report on population that the 15,861,000 figure represented an increase of 69,000 or 1.7 per cent over the previous quarterly estimate of 15,792,000 at Dec. 1. The increase compares with a gain of 72,000 or 1.9 per cent during the December-February period of 1954-55.

A bureau official said previous population increases between March 1 and the end of August indicate that Canada's population will reach 16,000,000 some time in August.

Chandler Named

WASHINGTON (UP)—Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky joined the ranks today of the favorite son candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination.

He said his forecast is based on the expected natural increase in population and the likelihood that the flow of immigrants will be stepped up this summer.

PMs Set To Welcome Malaya Gold Coast Into Partnership

LONDON (CP) — Commonwealth leaders agreed today to open the doors of the global partnership to Malaya and the Gold Coast which are due soon to become independent.

Britain has promised to grant full powers of self-rule to the Malayan federation by the fall of 1957.

She has offered eventual complete independence to the Gold Coast in West Africa where elections begin next week for the Commonwealth's first all-Negro government.

Both territories now have colonial status, with Britain controlling defence and foreign affairs.

Indian Premier Jawaharlal Nehru advanced the proposition to eight fellow-premiers that British colonies automatically have the right to full and equal membership of the Commonwealth as soon as they win full control over their home and foreign affairs. Conference officials reported that there was little or no dissent from the Indian view.
